THE BELL YEARBOOK

DEDICATION 2016-17

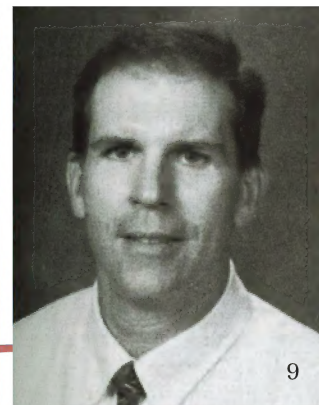

MR. DAVID BROWN

Mr. Brown's influence on campus since he started in 1996 is expansive. Having taught seventh grade American History and eighth grade Cultural Geography over many years and being a junior school advisor, he has crossed paths with many of MBA's students over the years. After school, he coaches the football team's defensive line, earning the respect and love of high school and junior schoolers alike.

Each day Mr. Brown takes classes past the monotony of only facts by adding interesting stories to the required material. He also focuses on MBA's mission of turning boys into better men. One way he accomplishes this is by having his seventh graders write an essay on integrity focused around the life of Sam Davis. This instills the importance of being the best you can be even when no one is there to keep you accountable. This is something Mr. Brown exemplifies himself every day on campus and through his leadership in activities such as the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

Mr. Brown is a caring and genuine person, and has dedicated his life to serving others. His care for both the students and faculty at MBA is obvious in his daily interactions. He has been a positive influence in lives of many young men during his time at MBA, and his legacy will continue to benefit the community even without his physical presence on campus. It is in honor of this history of leadership and guidance that The Bell dedicates the 2017 yearbook to Mr. David Brown. Thank you for your service, Mr. Brown, and congratulations on your retirement.

6. Mr. Brown took up fishing in earnest over recent years, often going on excursions with other coaches from the football coaching staff. 7. 150 YEARS OF LONG RED LINE

MBA provides a special environment for its student body on and off the campus every day, and there are endless opportunities for service, study, community, and fun. Between classes, clubs, teams, and free time students build relationships that will last a lifetime. At any given moment students can be seen discussing subjects with teachers, reading, working out, singing, enjoying their friends, or a combination of those.

As MBA celebrates its 150th anniversary, this year offers some special opportunities for the student body. The year included offering quarterly cooking lessons with renowned chefs, extensive free summer classes ranging from woodworking to computer science, special speakers through the men of character program, as well as exotic sports clubs like cricket.

This year, as we think about connecting ourselves to the past, the school theme appropriately focuses on connecting ourselves to each other through healthy relationships: empathy. The emphasis on putting ourselves in the position of others has bolstered the serving and giving attitude on campus as well as remind us of the beginning of our own time on The Hill. The materialize this connection we are dragging a long red line through the yearbook to symbolize the big red line through history.

SUMMER STUDIES SPENT ABROAD & CLOSER TO HOME

Thanks to the visionary gift of David K. (Pat) Wilson, dozens were afforded grants to further their studies throughout the United States and abroad. The Wilson Grants offer transformative opportunities for travel abroad, language immersion, studies in science, English, history, mathematics, and the arts. This year MBA students circumvented the globe as they participated in programs everywhere from Berkeley, California, and Boston, Massachusetts, to Bogotá, Colombia, and Granada, Spain. Individuals immersed themselves in a number of areas of interest, including Spanish, creative writing, chorus, and more, while they developed themselves both personally and intellectually. The Wilson Grant program truly is an incredible benefit to the MBA experience and education.

TRAVELS NEAR FAR_{TO} STUDY & EXPLORE

Summer 2016 was packed full of foreign exchanges and travel adventures that took Montgomery Bell Academy students around the globe 26 students were fortunate to be awarded the opportunities graciously provided by the Warner Family to visit schools in South Africa, Singapore, England, Australia, and New Zealand. Each student had an incredible experience and learned so much from engaging in different cultures. Much thanks to the Warner Family for their generous support of the exchange program. Two groups led by Mr. Norton and Mr. Ardisson, respectively, traveled to Wyoming and St. John's with students of all ages. A fantastic time was had by all, taking in the stunning mountain vistas and swimming in the ocean waves. These opportunities expand student's experiences in the world and to bring those experiences back to The Hill.

Our exchange was truly unforgettable. We made many friends at Michaelhouse School and experienced many aspects of life in South Africa. Living in another culture for four weeks was a life-changing adventure and I'm so fortunate to have been able to go. Thanks to Mr. Gioia, Mrs. Scholer, and the Warner Family for an amazing experience!

MBA SUMMER ON CAMPUS KEEPING BUSY AROUND THE CLOCK

MBA's campus, after a long school year of study, does not slow down for the summer. Immediately following graduation, MBA started its All Sports Camps for younger kids, giving MBA students an opportunity to act in a leadership role as counselors that lead the campgoers through packed days of activities. Another program offered on campus is Time to Rise. Led by Ms. Raines and a group of selected students, children not otherwise able are offered opportunities to advance their knowledge in the classroom and let loose on the athletic fields.

The classrooms are also kept in use. Students take Wilson Classes including essay writing, robotics, and even woodworking. Mrs. Qian keeps the mathcounts students sharp, and seventh graders have the opportunity to take classes such as computer programming to give themselves time to explore other areas of study during the year. MBA's campus never sleeps and keeps its doors open to all.

Time to Rise

The Time to Rise program allows students from local schools to come on campus and gain experiences both in and out of the classroom through classes and mentorship opportunities with current MBA students. These mentors often get as much out of the experience as the attendees.

Part of the sports camp includes dodge ball and encouraging the kids to participate in all kinds of sports. 2. The kids also get a break from all the activity after lunch to watch part of a movie, cool down, and recharge for the afternoon's activities. 3. Campers can also participate in specialized camps such as this one which focuses on wrestling.

Shakespeare's First Folio

Students in the Big Red Mechanicals performed Andy Griffith's Romeo and Juliet outside the First Folio exhibition at the Parthenon. This was one of many performances and events held as a part of MBA's sponsorship of the exhibition in collaboration with the Parthenon.

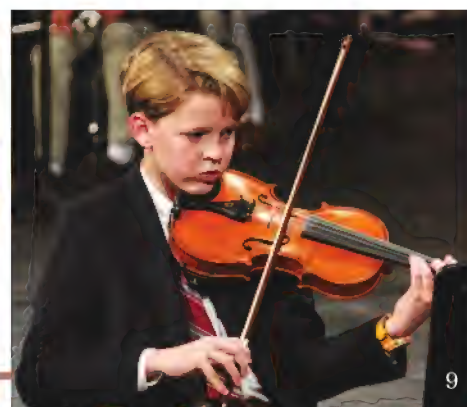

THE ARTS ON CAMPUS WHERE CREATIVITY ABOUNDS

The arts at MBA are always front and center at activities and events. Be it the student lead performances, art on display in the galleries, or the ever present music at campus events or assemblies one can't go far on The Hill without crossing paths with a student involved in the arts. The Visual and Performing Arts department works year round to provide students opportunities to hone their craft with workshops, classes, and grants to study near and far. This year the Visual Arts invited renowned artist Wayne Berzinka to campus to teach students ways of working with mixed-media collage and portraiture, his signature subject matter and technique.

Student theater performances this year focused on Shakespearean themes and performances rooted in the Bard's writings to coincide with the exhibition of the First Folio at the Parthenon. This coordination included the theater productions as well as the Junior School studies of theater during their elective classes.

The Music department welcomed Mr. Fredrick this year to lead the Ellington Band. With performances at many assemblies, events, and fund raisers throughout the year, however, the music does not stop on MBA's campus. These performances give the students a opportunity to gain experience in front of an audience. Events on campus would not be the same without this incredible soundtrack.

6. The Headmaster's Singers blow the crowd away at the Fall Concert in the Dead Poet Society room whose acoustics make it a perfect place for a concert. 7. The student directed one act plays allow for students in the Studio Theatre class to write, direct, and sometimes star in their own production. 8. The Junior School Choir performed for their grandparents during the annual Grandparents' Day event in the Dining Hall. 9. Buchanan Lindsey performs during the Spring Junior School Capstone Evening with the Prelude Orchestra.

SERVICE IS EMPATHY \approx INTO ACTION

MBA has always focused on serving the community and this summer and school year were no different. During the summer, juniors Jack Sullivan, Cal Bryan, Thomas DeRoche, and Jake McSween participated in internships at local projects such as Room at the Inn, Second Harvest Food Bank, and Operation Stand Down. A new project also sprouted at Green Door Gourmet. Best Buddies, Loaves and Fishes, and Race for the Cure continued to stand out as some of the leading projects on The Hill. Led by seniors Cole Thornton, Warner Lamar, Jed Griffin, and Dan Parks, MBA grew over six hundred pounds of food for the Nashville Food Project. Led by the service club officers Warner Lamar, Asher Curnutte, Jack Hayles, and Austin Streaty, the MBA student body also engaged in projects such as the Last Saturday Dinner, Glenn Leven, Second Harvest collections, Paragon Mills and Preston Taylor tutoring, and Canine Companions. They worked with the tireless Ms. Williams and Dr. Rader throughout the year to coordinate these efforts. Thank you to everyone who has invested their time and energy into improving our community through these student led initiatives.

Mark Lillard Class of 2017

"For me, service is about connecting with and understanding those in need, and finding a way to help improve their lives. I like best the projects where you can work first hand with those you are helping to better understand their stories and where they came from. Sometimes, the biggest impact you can have is through personalized attention, as seen in our Paragon Mills and Preston Taylor projects."

STUDENT SECTION 2016-17 ANIMAL HOUSE

After Big Red football dropped a hard-fought state championship game in overtime last year, the Animal House was determined to show out in 2016 in record numbers to will the football team to avenge their state loss. The boys did not disappoint, supplying the energy to help Team 118 to big victories over BA and McCallie. Although football was the most popular among the legion, the Animal House certainly didn't forget about such sports as Cross Country, Basketball, Hockey, and Soccer. The stellar performances on the track, court, field, ice, and pitch were mirrored by the rowdy performances of the students in the stands. The Animal House again showed why MBA boasts one of the tightest communities in the state.

The support that students give one another marks MBA as a special group that goes all out every time. Being all boys, the loyalty manifests itself in wild ways that often stand out in places like cross country where loud music and a grill out are not the norm. All the teams would like to say a huge thank you for the networking and noise that makes the community so successful in its competitions.

6. The Animal House comes out for a lot of different sports, including basketball during this costumed display of support. 7. Turner Johnson makes pie-eating look easy at a pep rally, because the underclass pies are actually mayonnaise; seniors win (as usual). 8. I want to thank everyone so much for where I am today. I really appreciate my parents for dealing with all the crap I give them. It means so much, and thank you so much for letting me go to such an amazing school. I also want to thank every teacher I have ever had for the fantastic education they have given me. I really treasure learning, and it is especially easy to learn with such great teachers. I especially want to thank Mr. Klausner for all of the help with college counseling and also taking my thousands of questions without ever getting short. That really meant a lot. Also want to thank Dr. Kinch for the 4 years of memories during advisory. Those were great times. Also, I want to thank Herr Doug for everything in class and out of class he did for me even just talking.

Y'all have made me into the person I am today, and I am very proud to call you my parents. The values y'all instilled in me during my time in high school will take me through the rest of my life. I also want to thank my Aunt Lisa and Uncle Jim for being there whenever I needed anything, no matter what. Y'all truly are my second family. Hunting at the farm or spending time fishing are just a few of the fond memories I have with y'all. Also a sincere thank you to Dr. Tarkington, Mr. Hamrick, and Coach Ardisson for refining my interest in both school and athletics.

These 6 years at MBA has been a fun journey for me. My time here has opened many opportunities for me, which has helped create who I am. After trying almost every sport, I have gained an appreciation for the various athletes, staff, and their perspective sports. These efforts have also led me to finding the two most meaningful and rewarding sports: Football, and Soccer. These teams have been extremely fun, especially in the State Championships. I am extremely thankful for my family, coaches, teachers, and classmates who have all made this experience special. Special thanks to: longtime friend Coach Klausner, Soccer and Football coaching staffs, and the numerous faculty members who have assisted me. Roll Red!!!

The tenets of gentleman, scholar, and athlete have had an outstanding impact on my life and development. And, throughout both the good times and the bad, there has always been that MBA brotherhood. I will cherish these memories for years to come. I would also like to give special thanks to a few teachers and coaches. Thanks to Coach Sharbel, Dr. Dickens, Coach Gaither, Coach Raney, and Coach Yakushi, whose selfless work has made for many great years of Rifle. Thanks to Mr. Meridith, for four years of a great advisory, six years of the ever-evolving orchestra. Thanks to all of my teachers, from the first class I ever had here with Coach Barclay to the last one I will have with Herr Dougherty. Finally, thanks to all of the faculty and staff who contribute daily to MBA.

MBA has been the best part of my life. I have invested my whole life into the school and the people I've met since I enrolled in 7th grade. None of these memories would be possible without my parents, my biggest fans. Mom and Dad, thank you keeping things interesting. I love you and wouldn't change a thing about my childhood. It's a tie, but you're the two best examples. Daisy, you are the bravest person I know. I commend you for your leadership as the older child. Thank you to my two beautiful grandmothers. I attribute my incredible MBA experience to Dr. Boyd, Mr. Kelly, Coach Barclay, Dr. Marro, Mr. Smyth, Sr. Paolicchi, Ms. Susan, Coach Anderson, Coach Martin, Coach Pettus, Coach Kimball and all the amazing teachers, coaches, and faculty members at this school.

I want to say thank you to the following teachers and coaches:

Ms. Williams- Thank you for always being there to listen and understand. I would not have made it through MBA without you.

Sr. Paolicchi- Thank you for being the inspiration behind my passion for language and showing me what the definition of a great teacher looks like.

Mr. Hutton- Thank you for always being willing to “dig deep” into literature and for sparking my passion for poetry.

Coach Killian- Thank you for believing in me and showing me what being a good and inspiring coach looks like. You are the definition of a gentleman, scholar, and athlete.

Mr. Lawrence- Thank you for your willingness to listen and converse with me on unconventional topics. Keep it going with the Big Red Bloc!

I also want to thank the following people outside of MBA:

Ashley Johnston, Jordan Slaughter, and Chance Allen.

I would not be the man I am today without any of you. Thank you all so much.

I would like to thank my parents, brother, Mr. Smyth, Coach Moran, Mr. Tillman, Coach Deutsch, Coach Anderson, Mr. Story, and the rest of the teachers and coaches that invested so much in me over the last 6 years, and for giving me the chance to be a part of the MBA family. MBA has truly changed me for the better, and I will forever be indebted to the ones who have helped me along the way. Thank you to my parents, because of their generosity and sacrifice, I was able to attend this amazing school for 6 years. I will always love and cherish my time here, and the community that surrounds it.

A sincere thank you:

To my English teachers, especially Mr. Moxley and Dr. Kinch, for helping me learn to love reading and write well,

To my debate coaches Mrs. Quinn and Clark for giving me the confidence to find my voice,

To the History Department, especially Drs. Bailey and Boyd, for instilling in me an appreciation for the past,

To my parents, whose constant support has enabled every step of my journey at MBA.

Thank you to my parents for allowing me to attend this school. My family, friends, and teachers here are the ones who have shaped me into what I believe to be the best form of myself. MBA was more than just the academic value to me. It taught me how to be a gentleman first and foremost which is a virtue I cherish more than any other. Special thanks to Coach Anglin and Coach Mac, Coach Moran, Mr. Kelly, Coach Barclay, Dr. Boyd, Coach Jackson, Coach Davidson, and the rest of my teachers who made such an impact on my journey through high school. I will forever be thankful for having the blessing of attending MBA.

Also, I want to thank Mr. Smyth for being an amazing advisor. As 7 Seniors leave your advisory this year, I wish you luck in finding anyone as weird as us. And thank you Mr. Smyth for courageously guiding us through the thrashing waters of the Virgin Islands on our Outdoors trip in 2015 to this day that was one of the best trips I have ever been on. I want to also thank Coach Killian for taking the role of Head Coach in swimming this year and pushing me to be not only a better swimmer, but also a better leader by keeping the timing of our sets during practice. I want to thank the track team and coaches for allowing me to stumble my way onto the team and finding an unsuspected niche on campus.

These six years have been transformational. I came into MBA very unsure of myself, but with help from teachers, I quickly gained confidence in academic and social fields at MBA. I am so grateful that I am a part of this community that has shaped my peers and me into gentlemen. Thank you to my parents, I cannot express how thankful I am to have y'all as my support system. I'm so happy that we have such a strong and unique relationship. I will miss you so much, but you have prepared me for a bright future. Thank you Shoshana, because of you I will always have someone to work hard for. You motivate me more than anyone I know, I hope you enjoy the rest of your high school experience, and savor the time with Mom and Aba. Thank you Grandpa and Grandma. Grandpa, you are the most amazing man I have ever met, I have never had so much respect and love for one person. Thank you for giving me a place to stay last summer, I love you both very much. Savta and Zayda, thank you for being the most loving people in the world. I am never not happy when I'm with you two. Thank Mrs. Klausner and Mr. Quinn. I am so lucky that I had two of the most supportive people on campus as my advisors. You helped me tremendously throughout my time on the hill.

I'd like to thank all of my teachers. It has been a privilege to learn from such bright people. I would like to particularly thank, Mrs. Roberts, Mr. Bernatavitz, Dr. Fuller, Mr. Norton, Mr. Kelley, Coach Barclay, Coach Anglin, Mr. Story, Mr. Morrison, Coach Klausner, Coach Deutsch and most importantly Herr Dougherty.

Firstly, I would like to thank my family. Mom and Dad, I do not know how I would have made it through MBA without your constant support, encouragement, and advice. For that, I am thankful. Hailey, thanks for sticking with me through this tough six year journey that we both have endured. Hannah, thanks for always finding the light and funny side to a situation, I am going to miss that. Secondly, I would like to thank my friends. Owen, haha we fight like a married couple but somehow we have stuck together all of these years. Thank you for sparking my love for planes and motorcycles. I could not have done it without you. Duffey, from the hilarious stories to pegging people with grapes on the plaza. Here's to another great many years. And thanks to everyone. All of my brothers who have fought this fight with me. Together we fought and together we stand victorious. Roll Red!

Hail MBA of thee we sing

Now and forever more.

Long may the bells of glory ring,

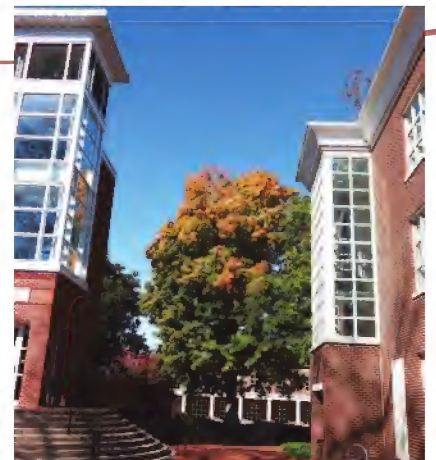

As in the days of yore.

Hail to thee! Hail to thee!

Where loyal hearts and friendship dwell.

I'm indebted to Dr. Kinch, Herr Dougherty, Dr. Batten, Mr. Womack, Mr. Herring, and Dr. Tarkington for being strong and guiding forces in my life. Without your help, I wouldn't be who I am. I'm also thankful for the amount of love and support my family has given me over the years. To the brothers I've found along the journey, I want you to know how special each and everyone of you are to me. You all have become a second family where I've discovered who I truly am. I owe all of you so much. Thank you.

Special Thanks:

Mr. Russell- Thank you for making my completion of Jr. School possible. I appreciate everything you have done for me at school and at church.

Mr./Coach Barclay- Thank you for being at help session every morning of my junior year and always believing in me. It meant the world. You've been an extremely positive role model of mine at MBA and I hope that one day I can be as good of a man as yourself. Also, thank you for showing confidence in me during the Ensworth Playoff game. I could not have done it without duck walk every day.

Mr. Story- Mr. Story, thank you for helping me to fully understand politics before I voted in my first election. I also thank you for showing true dedication to every student you work with. Do not worry. We notice.

Coach Frank Simpson- Thank you for teaching me so many valuable lessons throughout my time in high school. I am so appreciative of all of the support you showed for me.

Coach Cheevers- Coach, thank you for making my day just a little bit brighter every morning. Your humor was always appreciated. You're the best advisor a student could as for. Your good spirit always brought all of the advisees up.

After six of the most transforming years of my life, there are many individuals I would like to thank for my successes. The most important of these are my parents. Mom and Dad, without you by my side, through the good and the bad, I would not be half of the man I am today. Thank you so much for your love and support. Next, I would like to thank each of my siblings for lighting up my world and being my best friends. Huge thanks to my grandparents for being amazing role models. At school, there is no single person who has carried me through my MBA career more than Coach Klausner. Coach K, your omnipresent smile, contagiously positive attitude and unwavering belief in me have truly allowed me to thrive in the classroom and on the soccer pitch. To all of my friends, thank you for giving me some of the best memories of my life. And to all of my other coaches and teachers, thank you for dedicating yourselves to my success. Thank you to Mom and Dad for giving me the opportunity to come to MBA and for raising me to be the man I am today. I am beyond grateful for your constant sacrifice and loving support. I'd also like to thank all of my teachers and coaches, especially Coach Anderson, Kimball, Pettus, Martin, and Tipps for their dedication to this school and its students. Coming to MBA was the best decision I've ever made. The last six years have been an incredible experience and being a part of this community is truly something special. Lastly, thank you to all my brothers for all of the memories and making it such an unforgettable experience.

I have participated in the Riflery Team since the BB gun team in 8th grade. I placed 1st at the individual state championship freshman year, and have been on multiple state championship squads. I have been in the MBA choir since 7th grade Junior School Singers. I started acting during high school, and I was honored to perform as Ariel, the robot in the musical, Return to the Forbidden Planet, in my senior year.

Here are some memories I would like to be in print forever: Honors Bio visuals; the fire extinguisher disaster; tapering before a match; blast off drills; going to state for choir; always TTBB for mid-state; Headmaster's Singers before it was a class; the Bous Bus; my favorite poet Archillocus; Mr. Kelly's quizzes; "A most palpable hit!"; all the friends I made; and having a toucan friend.

I have countless individuals to thank for helping me through my time at MBA. Herr Dougherty, you are the best advisor ever, thank you for all your amazing advice and dedication to making my time at MBA be the best it could be. Mr. Davidson, thank you for being so overqualified that you could teach calculus even to me. Mr. Kelly, thank you for your wit during 1st period English, always brightening my day. Mr. Berry, thank you for sharing your passion for classics with me. Mr. Smyth, thank you for always pushing me to be my best and teaching me to give my all. Dr. Cirillo, thank you for teaching the best Greek class at MBA, and for piloting the Bous Bus. Coach Sharbel, thank you for all the time and energy you put into the rifle program and to my shooting. Dr. Fuller, thank you for taking a chance on me and allowing me to take up a lead role with no experience in Return to the Forbidden Planet. Dr. Boyd, thank you for going to Africa with me and the others on that trip. Mom and Dad, thank you for always having my back through whatever came our way, and any success of mine is your success.

To my friends for ensuring my sanity over the past years, and to all my teachers. I would especially like to thank Coach Barclay, for showing me the benefits of hard work: Your class was the first I took on the hill, but it will be the last I forget. Mr. Davidson, your incorporation of mathematical questions into broader world problems showed me the value of structure within interdisciplinary studies. Dr. Boyd, I never knew I could enjoy history the way I did in your class. You brought humorous and intellectually challenging angles to the world that engaged me in new forms of thought. I went to your classroom during first period study halls not because it was quiet, but because having the chance to discuss the world with you one-on-one was an enlightening process. Finally, to the debate coaches, Mr. Quinn, Mr. Hamrick, and especially Mr. Clark: you were all instrumental in my development as both a debater and a person. Going to the bottom of Lowry my first day of high school I was petrified of the four years ahead of me. Your care, aid, and inspiration has elevated me to be a better and still-improving version of myself. Debate isn't just an activity, but a family. Fight On!

Each year on The Hill has brought a new challenge. The high school life, the research paper, physics, all the normal work plus college. But it's all been great. Each year I've grown and made myself better. The pressure is never easy to handle but it's all worth it. November through February is the hardest, the dark days are terrible, but the world goes on. When you're sick, get your friends sick, it's fun. Power through, taper hard, come out on top.

I couldn't have made it through these past years without my family. They never left me or gave up on how crazy I got. My teachers and advisors were always there to help me get through my years. I got so much help even though I never asked for it. I will always be thankful for those moments when someone came to my aid.

The story of the growth from a boy to a bigger boy at MBA is unique to everyone. It is impossible to include all the great experiences that I've had during the last 6 years of my life on this corner in the page, and I'd be lying to say that they've all been good. Looking back, The Hill was not created to provide its students with a relaxing and enjoyable time, but rather to push them to their limits every single day that they woke up and decided to come to school. Unlike many schools, I'm proud to say that MBA instead rewards us with the opportunity to fail. And from our experiences and our failures, we come out on the other side 6 years later as victors over our struggles.

Through my journey at MBA, my thanks have become indebted to my teachers. Although I unfortunately cannot name you all, I want to especially thank my spanish teacher, Sr. Kamm for teaching me one of the most important lessons that I've learned on The Hill. I would also like to thank my advisor, Mr. Reynolds for helping me through difficult times and constantly providing me motivation through others. The unending support from loved ones and close friends will never be forgotten as I move on to another stage in my life because of your support. I love you all :)

I am so glad that I went through all those hardships. When I got 67 on the first midquarter of 7th grade in Mr. Russell’s Literature class, 38 on a chapter test in Mr. Berry’s Latin II class, and Geography project I didn’t finish for Mr. McMurray’s class. All my failures have made me humble and ambitious. There is no other school I would have rather gone to. VARSITY CREW ROWING THE WAY TO VICTORY

Although few in numbers, the MBA fall crew team entered the season with an open mind and an impressive work ethic, accomplishing many “firsts” for the program. Hosting McCallie at the start of the season MBA finished with a winning record against the McCallie program (11-9) for the first time in MBA history. MBA also faced the Nashville Juniors Rowing program, which is a composite team of many different area high schools. Winning every race but one in the fall season, MBA high school and middle school teams proved dominant.

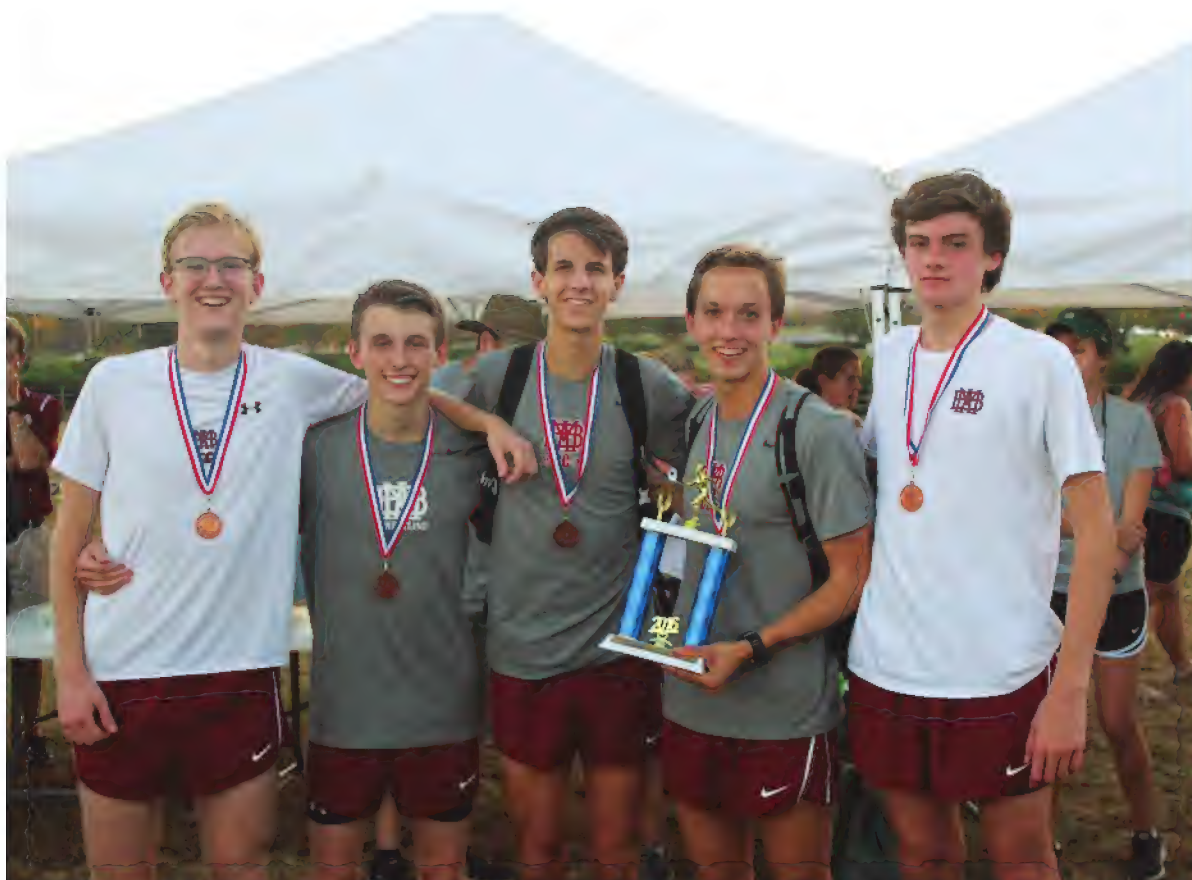

The high point of the season occurred at the finale, the Head of the Hooch regatta in Chattanooga. As the second largest regatta in the country with over 200 teams, regatta entries are usually based on a lottery. However, this year marks MBA’s first time earning an automatic bid to avoid the lottery, and the team performed well overall. The rowers continued to work hard over the winter in preparation to qualify for the National Championships, the ultimate goal.

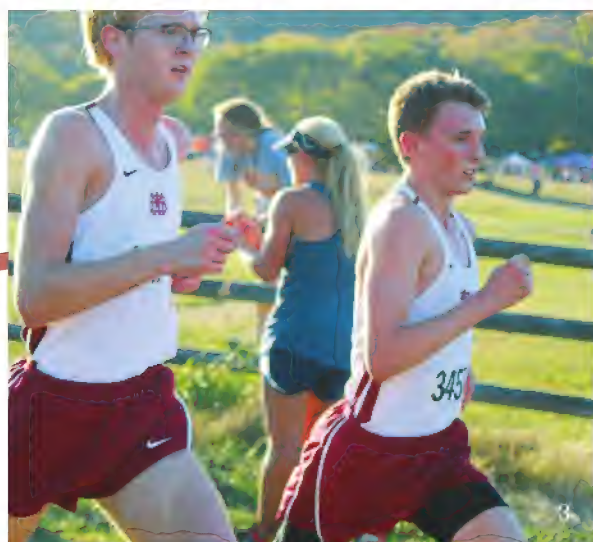

1. The Varsity eight races in a tough Head of the Hooch regatta in Chattanooga, missing a bid for continuing by less than 4 seconds. 2. Jack Reineke, Joe McMahan, Anderson Flack, and Harrison Avery win the varsity four race at the Secret City Regatta. 3. Harrison Avery, Jack Reineke, Joe McMahan, and Owen Hughes race the varsity four at the Hooch. 4. Juniors Owen Hughes and Harrison Avery prepare to put their boat in the water at the Music City Regatta.

VARSITY CROSS COUNTRY WHERE IT'S ALWAYS A GOOD DAY TO RUN

The MBA Trail Pups returned all of its starters at last years state meet and brought in a talented freshmen class. Mid-October saw the pinnacle of the 2016 team's competitive success with the harriers placing second of thirty-six teams at the Fast Cats Invitational in Kentucky and also reclaiming the Metro Championship with a victory over rival Father Ryan in both the varsity and jv races. Working hard all season led to them moving up two places since last years finish and running well at states. Senior Captain and MVP Will Peters had this to say about the season: "This cross country season was defined by the team's desire to improve and succeed. Over the course of the season, the 7 varsity races saw 6 different combinations of runners, a testament to the inter squad competition and determination to get better. With that kind of mentality, the team is set to continue to improve over the next couple years despite the result at state this year."

The past two seasons of MBA football set high expectations for team 118 in the 2016-17 season, and the Big Red did not disappoint. With senior leadership including two time Mr. Football winner Ty Chandler the Big Red took to the field with summer workouts and training. After a tough loss to Alabama's Hewitt-Trussville High School to start the season, team 118 went on a dominating eight-game win streak, with regular season wins over the likes of McCallie and Brentwood Academy. After having suffered a heartbreaking loss to Ensworth to end the regular season, the Big Red got sweet revenge in the post-season quarterfinals game, and returned for the third consecutive year to the state championship. The state game against city rival Brentwood Academy was back-and-forth as time wound down. Although the season did not end as they would have liked, the Big Red fought hard and continued to set high standards for MBA football in the future.

MBA VARSITY GOLF UNDER PAR AGAIN

The 2016 golf season was one to remember for MBA. With four seniors from the 2015 team having graduated, this fall the golfers had some big shoes to fill and they excelled with senior leadership from Cal Rieke and Max Davis. The team finished with a 12-7 match record, its best regular season record in over five years. The team also finished with a tie for 2nd in the state tournament, their best finish in eighteen years. Senior Cal Rieke made a massive contribution with a tenth overall finish. While Coach Jackson is proud of the team's results he reflected, "I am also cognizant of the fact that the biggest legacy our golfers will make is how they live out the motto of gentleman, scholar, athlete on the course. Many times the biggest impact made is not what the scorecard looks like, but how one upholds the tenets of the game, and I believe our boys did just that this year." Everyone is looking forward to another great season from our golfers next year!

Josh Morris finishes up a round with a putt on the 18th hole.

MBA RIFLE PRECISION & ACCURACY

The Montgomery Bell Academy rifle team started the year with a deep roster of outstanding shooting athletes poised for a successful season. They began their preparation and competition in August after an all too short summer respite under the excellent student leadership of a strong senior class. Their first competitive outing showed strong individual performances at the August Invitational. After an early season loss, the team turned up the heat to win 8 straight dual matches. In January, Josh Cheng, Ben Wassinger, and Matt Stagg earned the right to represent Tennessee at the USA Shooting JO Championships at the Olympic Training Center in Colorado Springs, CO.

Along the way the team turned in a season high team score of 2322 and countless personal bests. The regular season ended with their top squad in the runner up position at the state championship, falling one point short in a nail-biter to Harpeth Hall. Junior Ben Wassinger swept a determined and talented field to win the individual state title for the second year in a row. The 2016-17 regular season was a fine example of student leadership and gritty determination by the teammates. Through the hot days of late August and the dark ages of February the team displayed an enthusiastic, winning attitude.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

DRIVING THE LANE & DRAINING THREES

The 2016-2017 varsity basketball team had a good season, with a fantastic conclusion. The team completed the season with an overall record of 18-11 in one of the strongest leagues in the State, and did not lose a game outside of DII all year. Some highlights from the year included winning the Beech Holiday Tournament, a traditionally strong tournament in Middle Tennessee. The Big Red defeated top 5 Kentucky power Scott Co. in the MLK Classic, and also swept Baylor and Father Ryan during the regular season league play. The highlight of the year, however, was defeating Baylor and #1 seed Christian Brothers both on the road in a matter of days to advance to the Final Four of the state tournament. The Big Red then battled highly ranked McCallie toe to toe deep into the 4th quarter before finally falling in the state semi-finals.

The unselfishness and contributions of seven seniors was no small part of the team's success. Will Hoffman, Brad Hornsby, Jack Hornsby, Jarrett Knight, Michael Lee, Jackson Owen, and Haden Wachtler will be missed. Several individual accolades were earned throughout the year. Thomas Carr, Will Nutter, Haden Wachtler, and Drew Weikert (MVP) were named to the all-tournament team at the Beech Holiday Tournament. Thomas Carr was named to the all-tournament team at the State Tournament, and was also named DII All-State by the Tennessee Sports Writers Association. End of year team awards went to Will Nutter (Hustle and Leadership), Drew Weikert (co-MVP) and Thomas Carr (co-MVP), all of which will return as seniors to lead the team next year.

VARSLTY BOWLING REBUILDING FRAME BY FRAME

Season fifteen of Big Red Bowling welcomed new head coach Dr. Creamer, who previously served as assistant coach, and new assistant coach Rand Woodson, class of '08 and former state champion. Having lost 7 of 11 bowlers, and 5 of 6 starters, from the 2015-16 squad, the Big Red Bowlers expected to endure a difficult 2016-17 season. Despite several spirited efforts, the young squad struggled to a 2 - 15 record during the regular season. In the District Tournament quarterfinals, MBA lost 10 - 17 to USN. The small and inexperienced team consisted of no seniors, 2 juniors, no sophomores, 4 freshman, and 3 eighth graders. Ben Coulthard, junior and captain, qualified for the TSSAA State Individual Bowling Tournament for the second time, finishing 11th. With the probable return of all team members, along with an influx of bowlers from the junior school program, the team hopes to continue to build the program in the coming year. Despite the struggles of the season, all members of the team embodied the MBA motto of Gentleman, Scholar, Athlete.

VARSITY HOCKEY

TWO TEAMS TAKE THE ICE

The MBA Hockey team had an incredible season. They played a near perfect season, outscoring their opponents 164 to 35, and they went undefeated until the state championship which they lost in a heartbreaking overtime period to Ravenwood. The team was led by talented seniors Jacob Kovick, Jake Evans, Ellis Moore, Noah Wamble, Jackson Satz, Nick Ray, and Coach Deutsch. Accompanying the seniors was a score of juniors who will lead the charge next year.

The hockey program has become popular at MBA, and so they introduced a second team, the Wallace School, in place of a JV to allow older players to join and remain with the program. The team had previously been in the JV league, and the jump to varsity introduced checking to their game play which took some adjustments in playing style. Regardless of the changes in play, the Wallace school put together several wins and had a great time.

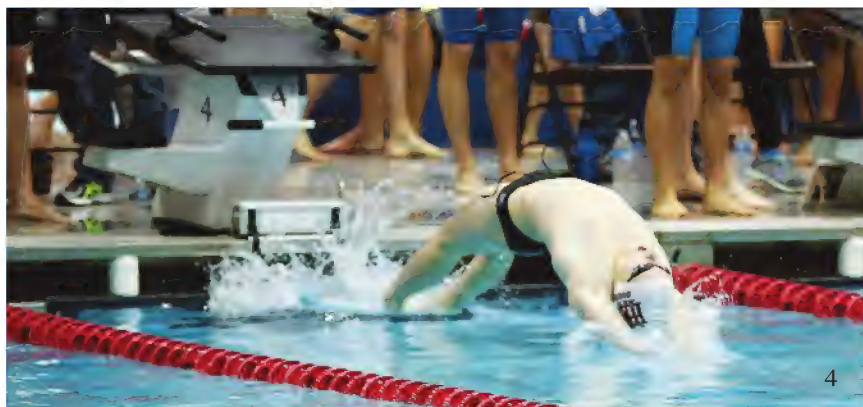

Feature Image: The entire team celebrates winning the region tournament, but, following tradition, no one touches the trophy, because it's not the cup they want. Their eyes are on state. 1. Steven Davis passes to keep the puck in the zone. 2. Noah Wamble makes an easy save and passes the puck back out to Ben Evans to start another offensive attack. 3. Blake Robison runs over a Father Ryan defense man to open up the lane for Josh Morin and Ben Evans. 4. Jacob Kovick dekes around an Ensworth defender to make an attempt on goal.

VARSITY SWIM AND DIVE PULL, KICK AND DIVE TO VICTORY

The varsity swimming and diving team had its most successful season in three years. Competing in the highest division in Middle Tennessee, the team defeated Oakland, Ensworth, Franklin, and Ravenwood in regular season competition, losing only to Brentwood High. At the region championship, the Big Red took third behind Brentwood and Ensworth. Hudson Dobbs '17, Patrick Andreen '17, Ford Ray '18, and Larry Hayes'18 combined for a decisive victory in the 200-yard medley relay to open the meet. Competing individually, Dobbs also swam to victory in the 100-yard backstroke, successfully defending his 2016 title in the event. The Big Red's efforts were bolstered by a remarkable showing from the team's divers: Will Nahley '19 and Patrick Powell '20 finished second and third, respectively, while Alex Ray '20 added on 8 th place points, making 1-meter the team's single highest scoring event of the meet. At the State Championship in Knoxville, MBA fought to a top-ten finish for the first time since 2014, taking 10 th with 102 points. Hudson Dobbs finished 5 th in the 100-yard backstroke, his fourth consecutive trip to the State finals in that event. The medley relay raced remarkably again, finishing 3 rd in the state and earning the four swimmers All-State honors. The season was Mr. Pat Killian's first as head coach of the program. Dobbs and Ray earned post-season honors, named First and Second Team All-Region, respectively. Dobbs, Andreen, Ray, and Hayes are under consideration for All America status in the medley relay, and Dobbs earned an additional All America designation in the 100-yard backstroke.

1. The whole team gets ready to compete and or cheer on their teammates at the regional meet. 2. Drew Powell powers through the 100m breast stroke in the region meet. 3. VARSITY WRESTLING GLADIATORS ON THE MAT

This year's wrestling team was guided by its strong senior leadership. Perry Matthews, Nick Sartain, and John Michael Glover set the tone with their relentless work ethic in the practice room, while Wyeth Patton, Ryan Kosson, Michael Elkin, and Gabriel Elkin competed time and again with the fierce toughness expected out the MBA wrestlers. Often times wrestlers battle through injuries and continue competing. This dedication and toughness serves as a great representation for this group of seniors. These men will be greatly missed on next year's team.

The team finished the season with an overall dual record of 20 - 7, and the following boys placed in the top 6 at the state tournament in their respective weight classes: State Champion: Gabriel Elkin. 2nd place finishers: Michael Elkin, John Michael Glover, Bryce Wittman. 3rd place finishers: Joseph Tarquine, Perry Matthews, Ryan Kosson. 5th place finisher: Wyeth Patton. 6th place finishers: Frank Perazzini, Adam Garfinkel, Clay Garstin, and Dominic Fisher.

Special individual performances to note were Gabriel Elkin's undefeated season, and Gabriel Elkin and Bryce Wittman's earning All-American status (top 8 in the country).

1. Nick Sartain wrestles against BA during senior night. 2. Bryce Wittman pins against Father Ryan in his near perfect season. 3. VARSITY BASEBALL SWINGING FOR THE FENCES

The varsity baseball team got off to a great start of the 2017 season with a decisive victory against Davidson Academy. The team then headed to a spring break tournament in Orlando to face some great Florida competition like Dr. Phillips, Apopka, and First Academy. After returning from the break, the Big Red opened league play with Baylor. After finishing a 17 inning game and then playing two more 7 inning games on a Saturday, the team won the series. During the year, MBA had key wins vs. Overton, Brentwood Academy, Father Ryan, JP2, and Ensworth. The team worked very hard getting ready for the playoffs. In opening round of the playoffs, MBA beat McCallie in game 1 before losing games 2 and 3 to end the 2017 season. The Team had some great leadership coming from offensive MVP Jake Evans and top pitcher Drew Davis, and the rest of the team looks forward to another great season next year.

SPRING CREW ROW RED ROW

Coming off a very successful fall campaign, the MBA Crew continued to make strides and gain speed throughout the spring season. The ultimate goal of the spring season is to qualify for the National Championships, something the MBA Crew had yet to accomplish. The first test of the season was a dual against McCallie at Commodore Marina on April 8th. The team performed well winning 2 of the 5 events. After nearly a month without competition, the MBA Crew got its next chance to compete at the Mid-South Championships in Chattanooga. Despite challenging conditions, the team performed well. The MBA Crew ended the day with 1 gold and 7 silver medals. The Gold medal was won by the JS boys won their race by whopping 20 seconds! The weekend after the Mid-South, the Crew traveled to Zanesville, OH to compete in the Midwest Scholastic Championships. By the end of the weekend, MBA saw all 7 of its boats finish in the top 20 with one boat, the Men's Lightweight 4+, earning MBA's first ever bid to the National Championships. The Boy's Lightweight Four of Owen Hughes, Anderson Flack, Jack Reineke, Sebastian Bess and Wesley Hirschman entered the SRAA National Championships in Camden, NJ as the 18 th seed. The boys rowed to a 3 rd place in their qualifying heat which placed them as the 5 th seed in their semifinal. Although they fell just short of advancing, they earned a National Top 10 Ranking for MBA Crew as the 8 th fastest Lightweight 4 in the country.

The boys exceeded the expectations of their first year under Coach Kesor. Their success is a testament to their work ethic, discipline, and drive to be fast. Senior captain and MVP Joe McMahan had this to say about the season: "Tough winter workouts paid off with a monumental season sending the varsity lightweight four to the scholastic nationals for the first time. The team as a whole excelled with over half the team in the finals at the Midwest regional regatta."

1. Carson Reisinger, Jack Reineke, Anderson Flack, Sebastian Bess, and Wesley Hirschman finish a race at the midwest championship 2. Ben Gauldin and Marshall Summar pull hard in a four man boat at the Cumberland Classic 3. Harrison Avery, Jack Reineke, Joe McMahan, and Owen Hughes man the varsity four at the Hooch Regatta 4. VARSITY LACROSSE EAT SLEEP LAX REPEAT

The Big Red Varsity Lacrosse team finished the 2017 season with an 118 record, while playing one of the toughest schedules in the southeast. The team scored wins over state champions from Kentucky (Louisville Trinity) and Alabama (Vestavia Hills), as well as North Carolina runner-up Lake Norman. The Indiana (Cathedral) and South Carolina (Wando) state champions were also on the schedule. The Big Red won the East Region with a 40 record and a 149 win over McCallie to close out the regular season. The team earned a first round bye in the playoffs and scored a 19-4 victory over Franklin in the TSLA quarterfinals. The Big Red could not duplicate its regular season success against McCallie, falling to the Blue Tornado in the state semifinals.

MBA placed 11 players on the All-Region team, highlighted by Fenner Pollock ('18), Harrison Graves ('18), Gordon Pollock ('18), Jacob Kovick ('17), Addison Smith ('17), Gabe Mendoza ('17), Jack Hayles ('17), and Mac Lassing ('17) all garnering first team honors. MBA was also well represented on the All-State team with Fenner Pollock, Gordon Pollock, Smith, Hayles, and Lassing all making first team. Graves, Kovick, and Mendoza were named to the second team. In addition, Fenner Pollock was named The Tennessean Lacrosse Player of the Year for Middle Tennessee.

VARSITY SOCCER PERFECT ON THE PITCH

Soccer had an incredible season. They went undefeated in the regular season and outscored all their opponents 74 to 14 including the post season, including great wins over Father Ryan, Baylor, BA, and Ensworth. The team was led by a great group of seniors including William Porter, nicknamed the cannon for his throw ins, Collin Ragsdale, Andrew Duffey, Ellis Moore, and the keeper Dean Cheevers. Accompanying and following the seniors leadership was a strong support of underclassmen, including several freshman and eighth graders that promise an auspicious future.

After a perfect regular season, the team swept through their opponents to reach the state finals for the second year in a row. On the day of the state final, the boys had an off day and received runner up to a great McCallie team they tied earlier in the season.

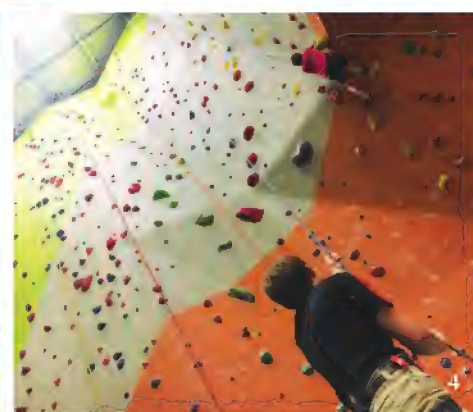

The team would like to thank and show appreciation for the departing seniors, the coaching staff of Coach Cheevers, Hardin, Lawrence, and Klausner, and the MBA community for their support in big games throughout the year.

1. Henry Hylbert prepares to strike a goal against Ensworth at home, contributing to a 9-0 victory for the second time. 2. Collin Ragsdale celebrates a header goal against Father Ryan in the State Semi-Final off of a cross from Alex Bulgarino. 4. Freshman Brycen Brown celebrates a goal assisted by Luke Bernatavitz to clinch a victory against Independence.

CLIMBING CLUB MAKING THEIR WAY UP THE WALL

It has been another remarkable year for the Rock Climbing Club at MBA. Lead by climbing expert Matt Smyth, every Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday climbers met after school at Climb Nashville West to test their climbing capabilities.

A record number of students participated and came out to the walls this year, and success was felt by all. With a mix of top-roping, bouldering, and lead climbing, the climbing team was able to hone their respective abilities and improve in every category. Outside of the gym, the Climbing Club was fortunate enough to schedule a trip to experience outdoor climbing at Kings Bluff in Clarksville in mid-April. Lead by guides from Climb Nashville, as well as Mr. Smyth, some of the members of the team were able to get outside on real rock and test their skills. This included both lead climbing and top-roping. Throughout the year, many of the more experienced 3 or 4 year members acquired their LEAD Climbing certification, while many of the new members have been focusing on progressing their level of tolerance on the bouldering and top-roping walls.

The tennis team had an incredible 2017 season, bringing the coveted state title back to The Hill. They were led by George Harwell, fifth-year player, captain, and MVP, who described the season: "This team had amazing chemistry, worked hard, and played its best tennis at the right time to win the title, which is something I'll cherish forever." Experiencing success and failure on the season's long road, the team swept historic rival McCallie and suffered a devastating loss to Baylor. The team worked hard all year, led by fourth-year varsity members Frist Allen, Cole Thornton, and John Morphett. Freshman Richard Cummins and junior John Spurgeon both had standout years, winning the Spirit and Most Improved awards, respectively. MBA faced a challenge in semifinals against MUS but pulled away with the strong doubles performances of captain John Morphett and Coaches award winner Matthew Bulow. Following the victory, the team had its hardest battle yet, seeking revenge against Baylor. In a thrilling finale, MBA was crowned with the state title as Hugh Graham clinched the winning match.

VARSITY TRACK AND FIELD RUN, JUMP, AND THROW

MBA's track program had a strong year. Missing their traditional practice meet, the team warmed up at the Highland Games, and won again comfortably. The group continued to grow in strength and speed across Wednesday meets in preparation for the season's bigger competition, where they continued to produce impressive performances. Will Peters continued to be a dominant force in the distance events, and Ty Chandler held together young sprint relay teams. In the field, Warner Lamar and McClain Portis scored consistent points in pole vault and high jump respectively. Ty Chandler and the DMR team set school records to conclude the team's strongest part of the season. Unfortunately, both Will Peters and Ty Chandler were injured for the state performance so the team only placed 4th in spite of strong performances from Warner Lamar, McClain Portis, and Graham Ragsdale. This included a State Championship for Warner Lamar in the pole vault. The track program looks forward to the future with young talent in both the running and field events.

SHOTGUN TRAP AND SKEET SHOOT RED SHOOT

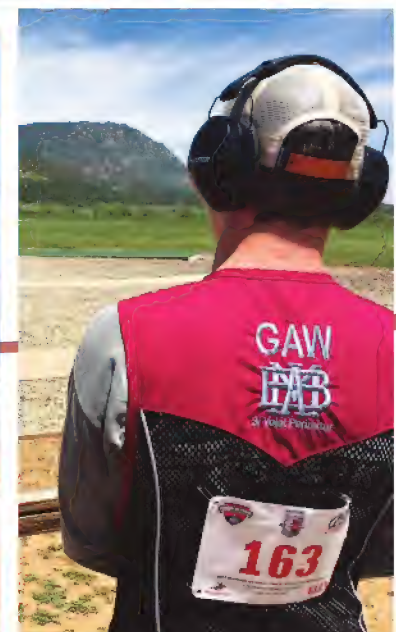

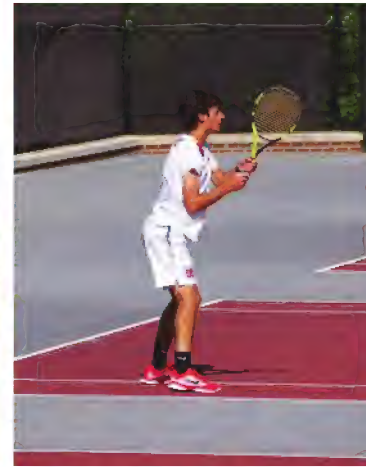

Five years ago, MBA added shotgun to its Shooting Sports program. The team has come a long way in a short time, and brought home a 2nd place finish in the International Style State Championship this year. The team finished the season by shooting in the Region Championship the weekend after graduation, and the State Championship June 20th - 24th. Thirty shooters earned letters this season, including the first ever four year letter winners Duncan McGinn and Nick Sartain.

The team improved significantly this year under the leadership of captians Sam Garrett, Jack Benson, Nick Sartain, and Aubrey Greene. Sam Garrett, Andrew Freeland, Aubrey Greene, and Doug Gaw qualified to shoot in the USA Shooting Junior Olympic Shotgun National Championship in Colorado Springs June 8 - 12, where Sam finished tied for 23rd and Doug finished tied for 41st out of the top 180 bunker shooters in the nation.

In trap, shooting a perfect round is the ultimate accomplishment. This season nine shooters have turned in a combined 23 perfect rounds. Two shooters, Sam Garrett and Jack Benson, put two of those together to shoot 50 straight. Team awards this season went to the following: Most Improved to Doug Gaw, Young Gun to Andrew Freeland, Coaches Awards to Magnus Campos and Christian Palm, and Top Gun to Sam Garrett.

1. Doug Gaw, Aubrey Greene, Samuel Garrett, and Andrew Freeland stand with Coach Ardisson at the Junior Olympic Championship. 2. ADMINISTRATION LEADING WAY

The administration led MBA to another wildly successful year. Mr. Gioia was as strong as ever, and we all continue to admire his passion for and dedication to the school. The amount of hard work he does for the school year round sets a prime example for the gentlemen MBA sets out to create. Mr. Norton also contributed greatly to the success of this past year, captaining MBA student leadership, leading the trip to the Dominican Republic, and being a leader in which high schoolers can confide. Mr. Simpson the Younger led the student council to a great year and oversaw the success of Homecoming, the Carnival, and Field Day. He and Mrs. Stewart were at the head of another smooth year in the Junior School, and we are confident that they have prepared the rising freshman class well for their time in the high school. In his second year as MBA Athletic Director, Mr. Tipps oversaw a very successful year in athletics, and he continues to a superb job in ensuring that our teams are well equipped and game-ready. Dr. Boyd excelled in his second year as Academic Dean, and he remains a fan favorite when it comes to assemblies, as his accent and references to soccer, pop culture, and Jack Capizzi captivate all. Thank you to all within MBA administration who made this year a great one, and we hope for the same success next year.

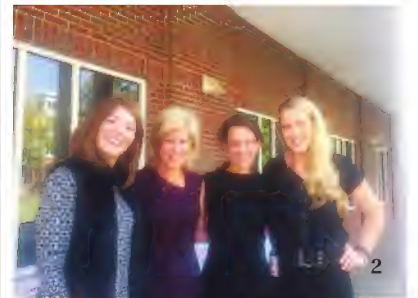

1. Mr. Norton gives a speech at the Veteran's Day program. 2. Mrs. Stewart hands out a diploma at the Junior School graduation. 3. Mr. Gioia looks on with gratitude as he receives his honorary doctorate degree from Sewanee: The University of the South. 4. Dr. Boyd addresses the student body during the Freshman speech competition.

ADMISSIONS, ALUMNI, AND DEVELOPMENT

Located in the upper and lower floor of the original Ball Building, the Admissions and Alumni and Development staff work tirelessly behind the scenes to keep the halls full of students and organizing many major events on campus. This year the admissions staff of Mrs. Lechleiter, Mr. Ferrell, Mr. Redmond, Mrs. Harrington, and Mr. Martin introduced the largest 7th grade class MBA has ever seen to The Hill after a rigorous admissions process.

The Alumni and Development office were especially busy this year with numerous sesquicentennial celebrations on top of their normal activities. They worked tirelessly with the mothers and fathers clubs to hold the carnival, homecoming, art shows, and the big alumni weekend. Staff include Mr. Smith, Mr. Johnson, Mrs. Howorth, Mrs. Vance, Mrs. Coleman, Mrs. Mayhew, and Mr. Roper.

Feature Image: Seniors sit in the Zimmerman Room during Career Day, an annual event put on by the Alumni & Development Office. 1. Mr. Chenery displays his work at the Mothers Club Art Show. 2. Ms. Vance, Mrs. Travis, Mrs. Perry, and Mrs. Coleman breathe a sigh of relief after all of the grandparents are checked in for Grandparent's Day. 3. The combined choirs perform in front of the Ball building as part of the 150th birthday celebration gala. 4. Mrs. Lechleiter preps the diplomas to be handed out at Junior School Graduation.

ATHLETICS KEEPING & FIT

The athletics staff at MBA are the best one could hope for. Coaches Vernacchio and Cheevers keep the weight room safe and run the seventh grade fitness classes with the assistance of Coach Simpson. Every student in the school, however, is required to participate in a sport during all three seasons of the year. This requirement calls for a lot of commitment from both the students and the coaches that lead the teams and workouts for those not in a varsity sport.

This year marked impressive development and success in both the high school and junior school teams. With HVAC wins in soccer, golf, swimming, and tennis and several runner ups including wrestling. In the high school, students performed well across the board, earning state runner up in football, hockey, and soccer, and winning the tennis state championship as well as George Harwell winning the individual championship.

None of those victories however, could have happened without the help of the administration, Mrs. Bassett, and the numerous coaches who give up their afternoons and holidays to work with the boys as they practice to give their all on the field, pitch, and courts.

1. Max Buenahora and Adam Shealy warm up in their 7th grade fitness class
2. The seniors congratulate their classmates on signing day, an event organized by the Athletics Office. 3. Bix Beavers receive a fitness award from Coach John Vernacchio. 4. Micah Battle, Ty Chandler, Jack Anderson, Gabriel Mendoza, George Harwell, and Montgomery Owen will all continue their athletic careers next year at their respective colleges. 5. Mrs. Bassett, the Athletics & Wellness Manager, reads while on the Atlanta trip.

CAFETERIA AND MAINTENANCE STAFF

The cafeteria and maintenance staff at MBA are the fuel and backbone of the campus. At any given moment, one could see Mr. Bowman with his leaf blower, Mr. Mario and Mr. Petit filling out a work order, Mr. Deresu waving from his cart while making a delivery, or Mr. Schlichting and Mr. Thurman keeping care of the grounds. These men under the leadership of Mr. David Norton, keep campus running at the high level it does. Although their work is done almost always behind the scenes they deserve a huge thank you from the entire MBA community because The Hill would not be the same without them.

Sage's staff in the kitchen keeps everyone on campus fed and happy all year. They are some of the first to arrive on campus to serve breakfast every morning, and some of the last to leave as they prepare for another day's work after school hours or serve meals at one of the many events on campus. They serve hangry teenage boys, and staff, for a living, which is no small task, and they deserve massive recognition, something delivered when the all school assembly gave them a standing ovation when they made an announcement.

These are just some of the people who work behind the scenes at MBA are incredible people who keep MBA's campus clean and functioning day in and day out. Thank you!

1. Although not an official member of the staff on The Hill, Mr. Gioia's new dog added to the day to day life on campus this year. 2. Mr. Steve Walsnovich and Mrs. Susan Squires keep everyone fed and happy, even staying festive during the last days of class before exams. 3. Mr. David Norton oversees the maintenance department as the Manager of Plant Operations. 4. Mrs. Jennifer is always greeting students and staff with a smile and occasionally a joke of the day.

COUNSELING GUIDING IN COLLEGE AND THROUGH LIFE

MBA's counseling office consists of both college counselors who prepare the entire school for applying to college and guide the seniors through the admissions process. The guidance counselors role with students includes meeting with students, helping coordinate the Big Red Block, keeping an eye on the social and emotional well being of each student on The Hill. This year the college counseling office experienced a high volume of college admissions visitors during daily breaks. They had so many representatives during fair week that they added two mini fairs held in the main quad. The college counseling office will hire a new counselor as Mrs. Davidson leaves after three years of dedicated service. Each student on The Hill will meet with at least two counselors one on one before the conclusion of junior year. This intimate knowledge of the students allows the office to give advice on potential schools as well as reach out to support the boys in their personal lives. The college counselors are Ms. Maddux, Mrs. Davidson, Mr. Klausner, Mr. Moran, and Mrs. Moon.

The guidance counseling office is available for any student seeking help in any aspect of life. Mrs. Scholer, Mr. Tilman, Mr. Garvey, Ms. Williams, Mr. Sanders, and Mr. Lawrence are the official leaders, however, any and every teacher's door is always open to anyone needing to talk. These resources are helpful to everyone on The Hill.

1. Bradford Holladay and Harrison Kidd test a rep's knowledge of her school. 2. Will Gray discusses options with a rep at the College Fair. 3. Mrs. Maddux speaks to each rep during the College Fair. 4. Michael Nelson and Ian Hall get a head start on the Common Application. 5. Ms. Williams keeps an eye on the students during Field Day this year. 6. Mrs. Davidson engages in cheerful conversation at one of the newly established mini fairs hosted this year.

ENGLISH READ, WRITE, AND DISCUSS

The MBA English Department offers a rigorous curriculum that prepares our students to think critically, write correctly, and appreciate the value of literature and writing to their lives. Beyond the classroom there are opportunities for students who wish to write and read for enjoyment. Some of these opportunities are: Junior School - The Rascoe Bond Davis Poetry Contest and the Jesse Hill Ford Writing Contest complement the student publication, Top of the Hill. The spring Poetry Recitation Contest inspires a greater appreciation for poetry in the student body. Each year, the junior school book club engages 7th grade fathers and sons in a discussion of To Kill a Mockingbird. In high school, The Archives and The Bell Ringer provide opportunities for creative and journalistic writing. The Red Poets Society creates a community of writers who meet regularly to write poetry. Likewise, the high school book club encourages students to read novels outside the curriculum. An online collaboration between Harpeth Hall and MBA broadens student discussions. This spring the visiting writer was Caroline Randall Williams, poet-in-residence at Fisk University, who met with many students and classes in addition to speaking to the student body. Wilson Grants support 10-15 students to attend summer workshops at colleges in the U.S. and England, these programs include Oxford, Yale, Duke, Georgetown, Iowa, Sewanee, Stanford, Berkeley, Columbia, UMass, and UVA.

Feature Image: Mr. Moxley (head of the English department), Mr. Morrison (regular Senior English teacher and involved in theater), Mrs. Palmore (AP english teacher), and Dr. Fuller (involved with history and theater) judge the junior school poetry recitation where students often recite Julius Ceasar's funeral speech or Richard Cumming's "If." 1. 8th grader Ashwin Jain studies Mark Twain's Tom Sawyer. 2. Billy Thomas reads after finishing work in a study hall. 3. Mrs. Roberts stands with the recitation winners: Ethan Lilly, Sam Elasy, Jack Keller, and Thomas Peterson. 4. Mr. Anderson works with his 7th grade English class.

BUILDING PASSION LANGUAGE CULTURE

The Foreign Languages Department continues to be strong, with National Exam scores as high as ever, and we saw several perfect scores this year. The plentiful gold, silver, and bronze medals earned by students this year are testaments to the dedication, hard work, and skill of the teachers here who taught them everything they know. Ms. Hackney joined the team this past year, bringing even more skill and character to the already superb group teaching foreign languages at MBA. The Carter Foreign Language Cup, led by Mr. Bernatavitz, was once again a success, with the Englishmen of Dr. Boyd and Mr. Klausner defeating their French foes and preventing them from repeating as champions in an exciting match. The Carter Cup, held this year for the third straight year, is becoming a staple of the Foreign Language Department as a way for students to escape stress and for teachers to earn bragging rights. Language grants through the Wilson family are some of the most popular at MBA, and that fact, combined with the charisma and expertise of the foreign language teachers, is the reason that passion for foreign languages among students is, and will remain to be, sky high. Thank you, merci, gracias, danke, xièxie, and gratias ago to the teachers in the Foreign Language Department for their continued hard work.

BRINGING 卐 PAST 卐 LIFE

The History Department had another solid year in 2016-2017. Led by the fearless Dr. Bailey, who finished his twenty-first year as an MBA teacher, the department saw history students creating new paths of thought through exercises such as learning about the French Revolution, describing the effects of the Great Depression, and identifying the countries of the world. The skill and experience within the department remains elite, and the history teachers continue to be successful in getting students to think critically inside and outside of the classroom. As philosopher George Santayana tells us, "those who cannot remember the past are condemned to repeat it." The History Department, one lesson at a time, teaches us the past so that we may not repeat it. Next year should serve to be another great one in history at MBA as the hunger to learn and discuss the world grows.

KEEPING MBA INFORMED AND CONNECTED

In support of MBA's mission, the Patrick Wilson Library, headed by Mrs. Klausner, is an integral part of the MBA community. Built in 1968, and renovated in 1996, 2004, 2010, and 2013, the library provides a gracious as well as functional setting for MBA's students and faculty to study, read for pleasure, engage in research, and explore electronic information sources. Here students have access to the school's outstanding collection of approximately 17,000 volumes as well as magazines, newspapers, DVDs, ebooks, and audio books. This year also saw the digitizing of the school's archives including all yearbooks and newspapers for the community.

Technology has become an important part of MBA as well. This year featured the renovation of the robotics room to accommodate for its growing popularity and the installation of the Digital Media Lab in the Visual Art area. The library also set up a wireless printing system to allow students to print papers and documents directly from their personal computers. Thank you to Mr. Marc Ardisson for leading the technology department and helping keep everyone connected.

Feature Image: Each year Mrs. Klausner and the library take the lead on Halloween costumes. This year's theme was celebrating MBA's 150th with Mrs. Klausner dressed as the MBA waffle. 1) Students take advantage of the library's study space to work on computers. 2. Mrs. Klausner also serves each year as the keeper of the registrar which students have been signing for 150 years. 3. Tanuj Koli uses the classic pencil and paper. 4. Mr. Marc Ardisson takes a photo with Mr. Gioia and guest speaker Ed Davis. It is because of the work of the technology department that students and guests are able to hear from such remarkable speakers.

BALANCING EVERY EQUATION IN MATHEMATICS

Another great year in the MBA math world has come and gone. We have welcomed Mr. Kesor and Dr. Phillippi to the mathematics department. Mrs. Qian and the MathCounts program won another state championship. The teams that participated in the several IML competitions did an outstanding job, finishing first overall in Algebra I, Geometry, Precalculus, and Statistics and second overall in Calculus and Algebra II. The AMC (American Mathematics Competition), which is taken each year by many MBA students, was another success, with several students receiving awards and high marks. The Hill is fortunate to have so much experience and skill within the math department under the impressive leadership of Mr. Golenor. Next year in math should prove to be a great one, with Mrs. Qian and her students working towards another state championship and new teacher Dr. Hedmark joining the department.

1. Mr. Davidson's students take a quick break from notes to play a fun game to demonstrate some of their newly acquired skills. 2. Coach Cooper lends a helping hand to one of his students during help session. 3. Coach Lanier appears amused as he ponders deMoivre's Theorem. 4. Brett Starr shows the class how math is really done. Andrew Kaplan and John Cooper are seen following along attentively.

DISCOVERING HOW THE WORLD WORKS

MBA's science department is one of the best in the country. Led by Mr. Travis Barclay the science program is designed to provide a traditional sequence of college preparatory courses and advanced placement that encompass all areas of science. The sequence begins in the Junior School in the seventh grade with Introductory Physical Science, which provides the fundamentals of chemistry and physics. In the eighth grade students take Earth Science; Freshmen take biology, followed by chemistry in their sophomore year. Juniors have the option of taking high school physics, algebra-based college physics, or calculus-based college physics, depending on their interest and aptitude. Advanced placement courses in chemistry, biology, environmental science, and physics are offered as electives for juniors and seniors.

The ultimate goal of the science program is to provide students with the knowledge and understanding of general scientific theories and methods that will enable them to pursue a college course of study and to provide them with the general background necessary for the decisions to be made later in life as a concerned and enlightened citizen. This year saw two new faces join the department; Mr. Carlini and Mr. Kesor did excellent work their first year on The Hill.

1. Joseph Hamilton, a Vanderbilt professor, gives a presentation on Tennesseine, a new element named after our great state of Tennessee. 2. Sophomores prepare for a lab. 3. Mr. Hannon performs a demonstration in his chemistry class. 4. Campbell Cook closely examines the specimen during his lab.

THE GLUE HOLDS MBA TOGETHER

All across The Hill there are people who make sure everything is taken care of and campus keeps moving. In the Junior School office that person is Mrs. Haendel who always greets people with a welcoming smile. In the Main Office Mrs. Howell has the sometimes daunting task of keeping Mr. Gioia's busy calendar together. Ms. Flynn was a new face in the office this year and took over the duties of the announcements and scheduling events on campus, of which there are many. And of course Mrs. Power keeps everyone accountable for being on campus through her duties as the guru of attendance.

In the Business Office there are a number of people who make sure that MBA keeps the lights on and teachers have everything they need to conduct their courses. With so many people and things happening on campus the Business Office, headed by Mr. Yakushi, has to take care of everything from benefits and payroll, expertly handled by Mrs. Lund, to handing the many bills and budgets, Mrs. Matthews and Mrs. Noonan. Rounding out the office is Mrs. Byrd who joined the department last year. The Business Office also saw the graduation of three of their own children this June.

Last, but definitely not least, is Mrs. Moon who keeps the College Counseling office together and students moving towards their goal of the next level of education. Mrs. Moon also takes on the responsibility of being the AP coordinator. With all of these people keeping campus working it is no understatement saying they are the glue that keeps The Hill together.

1. Mrs. Moon makes sure all of the college representatives are taken care of during one of the new outside mini college fairs. 2. Mrs. Lund took a short break from the Business Office to talk to her son Holland at the College Fair. 3. Rain or shine, and in this case rain, doesn't keep Mrs. Noonan and Mrs. Matthews from working the gate at a home football game. 4. Mrs. Haendel helps hand out cake to the Junior School students at a spring reception.

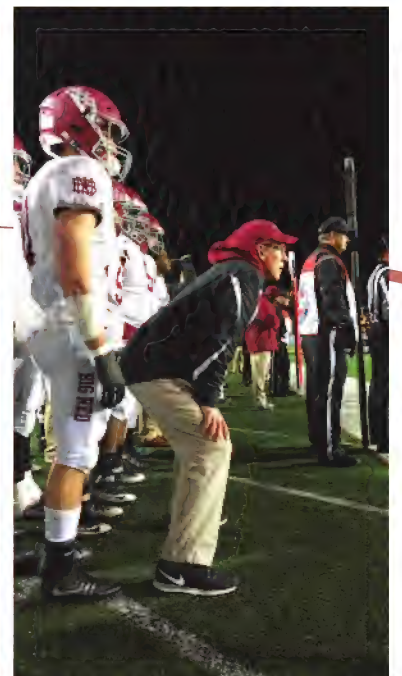

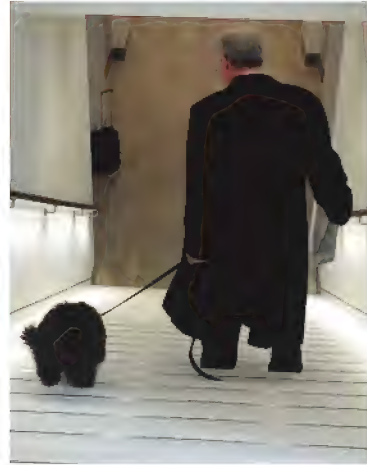

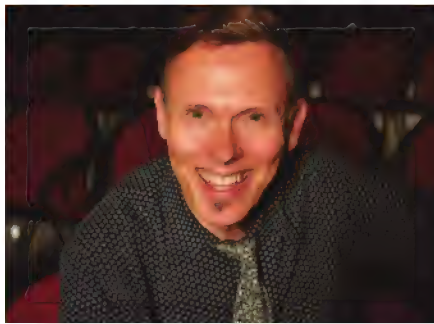

CREATING^{WITH} HEART^{AND} SOUL

This year was another exciting year in the Visual and Performing Arts Department. With the addition of Mr. Jordan Frederick and the reorganization of the music curriculum especially as it relates to instrumental music there were a number of changes on the first floor of Davis, or second floor if you go by the numbers. The theater department put on a fantastic series of shows this year with ties to the work of William Shakespeare to coincide with the exhibition of the First Folio at the Parthenon. These shows started before the school year even began with the fall musical and continued through the spring with the student directed one-act plays. The visual arts continued to see students create innovative and excellent work throughout the year in the new studios upstairs. They also welcomed visiting artist Wayne Berzinka to campus in the winter for a week to share his story and help the students learn to explore with various materials while creating portraits.

Each area of the department had students show their talents at regional and state competitions. These included Mid-States for music performers, Scholastics and MTRSAE for art, and the Regional Shakespeare Competition for theater among others. These busy calendars of performances and exhibitions keep students and teachers creating all year.

1. Mr. Smyth directs the Headmaster's Singers during the Winter Concert, one of many performances throughout the year. 2. Mr. Frederick conducts the Ellington Band during Homecoming Weekend's Spaghetti Supper. 3. The music department continued the tradition of outdoor concert during breaks this year. 4. AP Studio IV artists Holland Lund, Bryce Ardisson, and Zach Richardson returned to contour line drawings during this exercise. 5. Junior School thespians took on the work of Shakespeare during the Spring Capstone evening. 6. Jake Stumb struck a pose for this Art I gesture drawing exercise.

New Clubs

This year saw the first Medical Careers club after so many students expressed interest in pursuing careers in the medical field. They brought in speakers to talk about different fields and (portrayed to the left) even took a field trip had a demonstration. Shown are Kanayo Offodile, Micah White, and Brenden Harris.

LEARNING OUTSIDE OF THE CLASSROOM

MBA is all about going above and beyond the minimum requirement, and the academic clubs offered on The Hill exemplify the drive of the student body. These clubs include topics that allow students to use knowledge learned in class, and expand their understanding to pursue subjects that strike their interests.

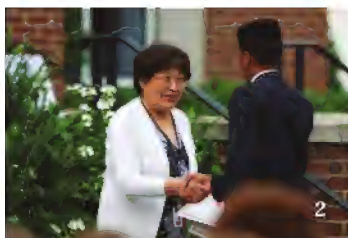

Unlike the competition clubs, however, the academic clubs offer an experience that is only about deepening student knowledge. For example, the Stock Market Club, portrayed in image 7, plays a simulated stock exchange game based on real activity to practice investment in a risk free environment.

Other clubs include the Philosophy Club led by Mr. Berry and Mr. Clark who lead philosophical conversations during break to offer a pensive environment in the midst of a crazy MBA day. The Mystery Novels Club which reads short stories and discusses them, the Big Red Poets who read and write poetry, Model UN, the Chess Club list just a few of the diverse clubs on campus.

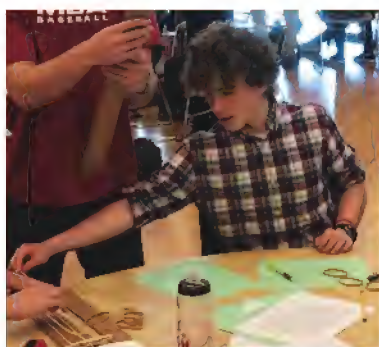

The number of students who participate in these clubs displays the learning and inquisitive atmosphere at MBA as the students continue their journeys through high school already learning to think like adults.

Jack Sullivan, Class of 2018

During my time at MBA, I've done academic competitions ranging from Latin Quiz Bowl to Mathletics to Science Olympiad. This year, I attended IML, a math competition where MBA placed first in multiple subjects. I also went to Georgia Tech with fellow Physics C students to compete in TEAMS physics competition. We placed second overall in the state. Some other competitions were Science Olympiad, where I placed in the top six in the state in three events, the TMTA state math competition and YIG bowl, a competition at our state Youth in Government conference where our MBA team came in first.

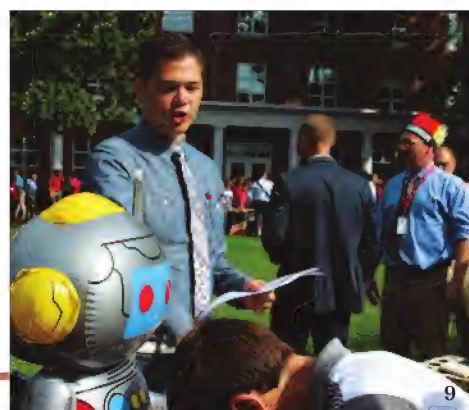

FROM CLASSROOM TO COMPETITIONS

Some students at MBA truly love learning, and take it past the level of pure academics to competition where they can apply their knowledge and continue to learn, and with such eager students, the faculty sponsors are just as excited to prepare and perform.

This year carried enormous success for our academic competitors. In Envirothon, in which students master specific categories such as soil, trees, mammals, etc., our team led by Mr. Spiegl and Mr. Bullington won the state and several individual categories. The Science Olympiad team which covers a much wider variety of topics also had a strong team and individual performance. A specific branch of this competition, the chemistry olympiad performed exceptionally well with Joe McMahan, Tom Peters, Jack Heflin, and Brian Thomas all placing. The annual Georgia Tech TEAMS competition was also a success with a second place finish from the physics class.

In math Mrs. Qian upheld her position as MBA's most winning coach by having the mathcounts team dominate the regional and state competitions to move on to nationals. Math and science were not the only competitions, however, the Classics Club also competed well at Classical League Mid-State.

Taking the Spirit off Campus

Jack Capizzi delivered strongly to a 2nd place finish at the Regional Shakespeare Competition on Saturday! He represented MBA strongly with his performance as Chorus in Henry V and his performance of sonnet 121. He is pictured here on-stage at the competition in the Troutt Theater at Belmont University.

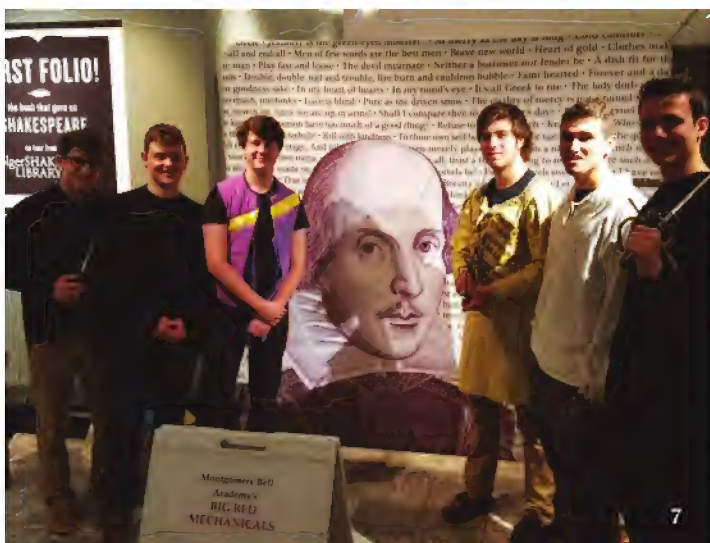

CREATIVITY ALL AROUND CAMPUS

MBA can seem like a very industrious environment from the outside, but inside there is an abundance of energy and creativity bursting into campus and the surrounding community. The theater groups work year round to put on excellent shows ranging from goofy musicals with aliens and romance, to classic tragedies that bring the audience to the edge of their seats.

Other students truly enjoy food and express their creativity through cooking, including at Endada. Music, of course is a huge part of campus, both in class, but especially those who work outside of the requirements to write and practice original pieces. Students like Christopher Coburn, Ben Gauldin, and Will Trotman whose orchestra and band pieces respectively are huge hits. There are also songwriters and guitar players that work together throughout the year to compose original content.

The single biggest display of creativity on campus, apart from the everyday ingenuity of the student body, is the Endada arts festival that features the food, art and music of MBA for the entirety of Nashville, and allows people to discover their own skills with interactive stations for both art and instruments. Creativity brings color to the black and white of daily routine, and MBA wouldn't be the same without it.

DEMONSTRATING STRENGTH THROUGH KNOWLEDGE

MBA Debate was the premier debate program in the country for the 2016-2017 season. Seniors Ben Rosenthal and Andrew Kaplan won "The Baker Award" given to the top team in the nation. The debate team also had four individual policy teams that finished in the top 12 ranked teams in the nation. Those four teams all qualified for the elimination rounds (top 16) of the Tournament of Champions, setting a record for the 46 year old tournament that will be hard to eclipse. The debaters on those teams were Ben Rosenthal, Andrew Kaplan, John Cooper, Liam Jameson, Ben Jablonski, Atticus Glen, Julian Habermann and Aden Barton. The team also won first place at the following tournaments: Barkley Forum (GA), Chattahoochee (GA), The Glenbrooks (IL), The Glenbrooks Round Robin (IL), New Trier (IL), U. of Georgia (GA), U. of Michigan Juniors Round Robin (MI) and Westminster (GA). The team also accumulated a national record of 27 qualifying bids to the Tournament of Champions. The MBA debate team motto is: "When one of us wins, we all win." The team enjoyed much success, and with a talented pool of novice and junior varsity debaters, will continue to win as a team next year.

COURTROOM DOMINATION

Led by coach Wade Cowen, the MBA mock trial team had an outstanding year. After a fall “Empire” competition, the team was ready for their season. Preparation began as early as Thanksgiving, but really picked up in the early winter months when the team would stay into the hours of darkness practicing and perfecting their arguments to get ready to show their skill the day of competition. The team had no trouble winning district and won top attorney (Andrew Kaplan) and top witness (John Cooper) on top of an overall victory. The team then competed at the state competition at the court house downtown, where the team came away with another decisive first place finish, meaning the team would compete in the national tournament.

A couple of weeks later, a completely new case came out and the team began even more intense practice for the national competition. When the time came, the team gave an incredible performance, improving on last year’s 5th place finish by getting 4th. MBA also fielded a B-Team at the district tournament which gives younger guys a chance to practice at a lower intensity and simply enjoy themselves with a great activity. The team worked incredibly hard and looks forward to another great year next year.

HONORING THE ACHIEVEMENTS OF THOSE ON CAMPUS

Every MBA student does exceptional work in terms of both quantity, quality, and diversity, but oftentimes there are a select group who go above and beyond the minimum requirements. It is in these cases when MBA feels it is important to recognize these students with three honor societies.

Totomoi is MBA's honorary fraternity that students may apply for during their junior and senior years. The applicants are expected to have success in numerous fields both on and off campus including service, academics, extracurriculars, sports, and the arts. Each year sees two "tapping" ceremonies where students, and staff members, are made aware of their induction through a heartfelt tap from other members.

The King Society is to commend those students who commit themselves to service and display a care for others in their actions on campus and their involvement in projects outside of school. Cum Laude is a prestigious academic honor that is recognized across the country for the top percentage of the junior and senior classes for their grade point averages during their high school career.

CELEBRATING LANGUAGE AND CULTURE

MBA has an incredible language department that prepares the students, not only in the spoken language, but also in the culture of the language they are learning. The hardest part of many classes is not learning to speak, but speaking about culturally important things in another language. These difficult exercises, however, allow the students to thrive when they travel to foreign countries on Wilson grants or on their own. Upon returning, these students bring back parts of the culture of France, Argentina, Colombia, China, Germany, and Spain back to MBA to improve on what MBA offers. MBA also encourages students to learn about other cultures by offering clubs for each respective language with no requirement for entry, so that anyone can learn about world culture. Students are also able to focus on American culture with politics and the African American Studies Club.

RECORDING ON THE HILL

Although writing themes may be the bane of many students' sleep during their time at MBA, others enjoy the process and take their talents to the publications which include the Bell, Top of the Hill, Archives, and the Bell Ringer. The Bell is the school yearbook (you are reading it) and each year a dedicated staff works to hunt down pictures, identify faces, write captions, and descriptions for each aspect of MBA life. This year, Jamison Russ, Daniel Cowan, Cole Thornton, and Tom Peters were the staff who worked alongside Ms. Swieca-Brockman to finish the book.

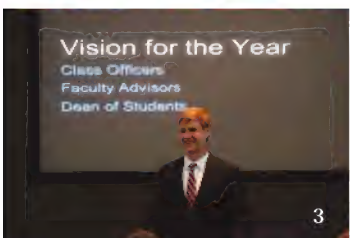

The Bell Ringer is the school newspaper which publishes seasonally to provide highlights from the quarter on and off campus. The paper provides recaps of MBA activities, but also provides an opportunity for students to investigate current events, sports, pop culture, politics, or topics of personal interest that could have a benefit to the community. This year covered several interesting stories including the election. Peter Taylor and Asher Curnutte took charge this year.

The junior school newspaper, Top of the Hill, allows younger to students to test the waters in publications early to improve the quality of the Bell Ringer and update the school on 7th and 8th grade activity.

Archives provides a showcase for art and literature twice a year under the direction of Mr. Tarkington. This year the publication was produced by Peter Taylor and Asher Curnutte.

Freshman Leadership Retreat

"The freshman leadership retreat to long mountain was a transformative experience. I truly felt prepared to take on the challenges that the year presented and closer to the peers I would be serving with."

-Eric Russ '20

LEADING THE WAY FOR OTHERS

An important part of the MBA journey is developing skills to use after graduation, and leadership has an enormous emphasis on campus. Students have numerous opportunities to plug themselves into a leadership position throughout their time on The Hill. In the Junior School, each advisory has elected officers, giving a number of boys a chance to lead daily activities and take initiative in larger areas like fund raisers and service projects.

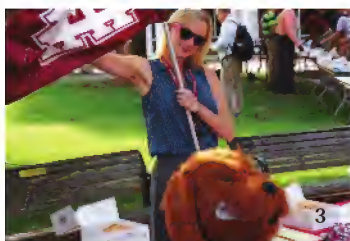

In the high school the leadership positions become more substantial. Each grade has four elected officers that take care of class responsibilities and fund raise for special events like prom and the class gift. Each class also elects seven representatives to the student council which organizes school wide events like homecoming and field day with the help of Mr. Simpson and Mr. Norton.

Another important leadership group is the honor council, which takes four seniors three juniors two sophomores two freshman and an eighth grader who act as the jury for disciplinary cases involving honor, such as cheating and stealing.

Even though there are a limited number of elected positions, almost everyone on campus acts as a leader in their own way and is encouraged to take on leadership opportunities whenever they can.

Jamison Russ Class of 2018

"MBA's wide variety of student led clubs offers a life giving break from the tedium of daily classwork. For me, FCA with the high school on Thursday nights, and leading the junior schoolers on Friday mornings with Jackson McFadden and Palmer Thombs, as well as the partner dancing club have been some of the highlights of my time at MBA."

CATERING TO YOUR INTERESTS

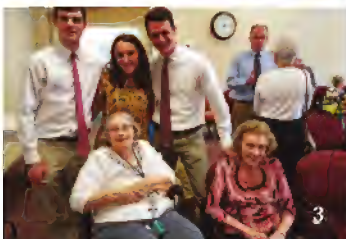

The personal interest clubs at MBA add incredible character to the campus and students. With over 75 clubs to join, students can pick anything that might interest them to spend their free time with people who have similar interests. They are often student run with a faculty sponsor, and the relaxed nature of the commitment level makes things even more enjoyable as it contrasts with MBA's normally rigorous time table.

The clubs themselves vary from intense physical activity like rugby and mountain biking to more relaxed clubs like grill n' chill and book clubs. With so much variety there is truly something offered for everyone. However, if any student wants to work on or do something not offered they are welcome to start their own club, and take up a leadership role in something they love.

Many of the clubs center on community and supporting peers, and the whole nature of the clubs add a life giving energy to the campus. These opportunities can shape an MBA student's time on The Hill as they find people and things they love, and develop skills for the rest of their life.

FOCUSING ON SERVICE AND SUSTAINABILITY

The MBA Service Club has an enormous impact on the Nashville community thanks to the initiative of the students and the guidance of Ms. Williams and Dr. Rader. There are big projects like the Second Harvest food drive when the school unites to raise over two thousand pounds of food, as well as smaller group efforts like tutoring at Paragon Mills, Preston Taylor tutoring, Best Buddies, along with many others. MBA is one of the few schools in Nashville that does not require service hours; instead believing that service should come from a true desire to give back and help, and the lack of requirement does nothing to reduce the effort and time put into spreading love and care throughout the community.

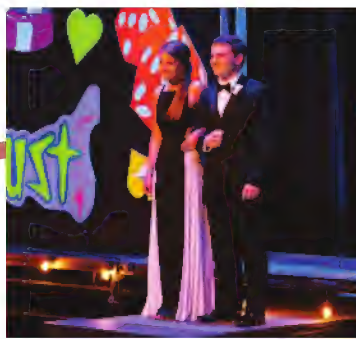

MBA also has put an emphasis on sustainability in recent years with big projects and small actions. The Wallace and Lowery buildings are both equipped with green energy supplies, and the campus uses some geothermal energy taken from under the lower field. Under the guidance of Chris Spiegl, the garden has expanded dramatically to grow year round, using compost made from the lunch excess. The freshman class each year takes care of the school recycling as their class responsibility; they did a great job this year, and we are looking forward to another green year next year.

Activities

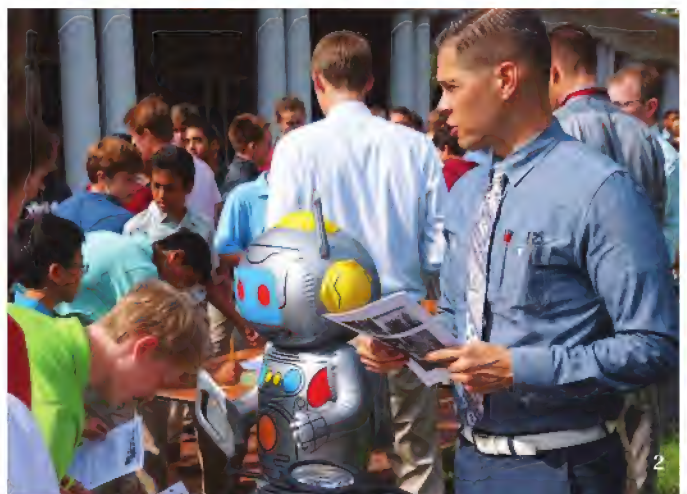

GET INVOLVED AND HAVE A DONUT OR TWO

Every year the activity fair marks the beginning of the business of the MBA students multifaceted lives; the 150th year was no exception. The morning began by surrounding the quad with most of the tables at the school's disposal and putting on them over one hundred boxes of donuts to entice students to the tables. Everyone signs up for whatever catches their eye: robotics, guitar, classics, mock trial, African American Studies, Chess, Philosophy, Ping Pong, The Bell Ringer, Riddlers, Grill and Chill, Climbing, Hispanic Achievers, and Big Red Poets name just a few of the diverse offerings on The Hill. There were also had several new additions this year including mountain biking, partner dancing, and jiu jitsu.

The activity fair is a fun way to celebrate MBA's incredible diversity of interest across the student body. Any one student can be seen playing football one day and debating philosophy the next. It is a tangible image of the school moto "Gentleman, Scholar, Athlete." in both the student body and the teachers that surround them to instill these values needed to live a balanced and involved life.

2016 CARNIVAL FOOD GAMES AND GOOD TIMES

The 16th MBA carnival blew it out of the water (and put several teachers in the water at the dunk tank). Organized by members of the Student Council, the evening takes weeks of planning to come off without a hitch. The campus is split into two big fields, and the entire Nashville is welcome to join together to enjoy an evening of prizes, food, and fun before a football game.

Entertainment is provided in every way. There is live music from the rock band, hot dogs for sale, ice cream for anyone, games for all ages including catch the cash, whiffle ball, pony rides, a balloon man, a cake walk, dunk tank, fast pitch, obstacle courses, and more. This year, the feature for the younger visitors was a life sized game of hungry hungry hippos which grew big crowds and laughs all night.

The carnival is also an opportunity for older boys to take leadership roles in helping the younger visitors around campus and helping run the individual activities. The carnival was a huge success leading up to a victory over Hamilton to round out an excellent evening for an MBA tradition.

2016 HOMECOMING WEEK FROM FOOD TO FOOTBALL AND SOME DANCING

Celebrating homecoming at MBA takes weeks. A month beforehand, everyone receives spaghetti supper tickets to sell, and prizes are distributed to top sellers during the weeks leading up to homecoming weekend. The school days leading up to the big weekend are filled with spirit days that allow students to dress up in costume and enjoy the three day bake sale that includes everything from bite sized candy to full cakes and pies.

After a Friday half day and the biggest pep rally of the year, everyone comes back to campus that evening to enjoy the spaghetti supper and homecoming football game. After senior night presentations, Team 118 faced a competitive Baylor team, which the Big Red handled without problem. During half time, the homecoming court presented themselves and fireworks left everyone ready to see MBA bring home the win, which they did. The following day, after dinner with individual groups the high school returns to campus for the big dance to wrap up the homecoming celebrations.

ADVENTURES AWAY_{AT} LONG MOUNTAIN

Less than two hours from the campus on the hill is the campus on the mountain. The Long Mountain campus is a popular destination for clubs to venture off The Hill and for activities to take place. This year saw the student leadership retreat for student council, student government, and honor council members, the FCA Impact Weekend, visits from the Astronomy and Outdoor Clubs, and the annual and well attended Father-Son campout. Long Mountain is home to stunning views and the enhanced ability to see the stars, as it is far away from any light pollution. Ziplining, field sports such as soccer, disc golf, and canoeing are popular activities among students who venture out. The observatory, used often by the Astronomy Club, is a defining feature, as well. The Long Mountain campus is a feature that makes MBA the wonderful place that it is, as it gives students access to unique opportunities which they might otherwise not have the ability to partake. For this reason, students will continue to be grateful for this fantastic resource, and future students will undoubtedly continue to make use of the campus on the mountain for years to come.

RITES OF PASSAGE WITH PATCHES, RINGS, SERVICE AND SPEECHES

MBA is full of tradition, and each year, the students become more and more entrenched in what the school has to offer. The freshman start first and receive a jacket patch to mark their entrance into the high school. They later prepare speeches on topical issues and themes, the best of which are presented in front of the entire school. The sophomores are encouraged to increase their participation in the MBA community with a service ceremony that presents the opportunities that MBA students lead to give back the Nashville and the world. The junior class follows, and midway through the year, they begin to take leadership roles to replace the departing senior class, and they receive a class ring to provide a physical representation of their place on campus and the history of MBA.

INSPIRATIONS FROM PARENTS, FRIENDS, AND GREAT SPEAKERS

Parents play a vital roll in the process of growing MBA students into better men, and MBA recognizes and thanks them each year with a breakfast dedicated to the mothers and a dinner dedicated to the fathers. After music and food, each year there are remarks made by seniors about their relationships with their parents and the impact that they have on their lives. This year among the many wonderful student speakers Hayes Alley made excellent remarks at the breakfast and Hamilton Garber at the dinner. After the student presentations and performances, a renowned speaker talks.

At the mother son breakfast, Kyle Maynard spoke of perseverance and finding identity apart from others opinions. He was born with no arms and legs, but has lived an active life, even wrestling and climbing Mount Kilimanjaro. He broke all the expectations set before him in life and his speech was no exception. At the father son dinner, Daniel Linskey spoke about his experience as police chief during the Boston bombing, and moved the crowd with his story.

2017 FACULTY AND STUDENT BASKETBALL GAME

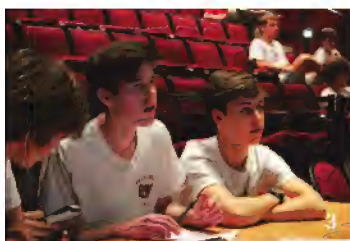

Each year, the faculty lace up their old shoes to play the seniors in an exhibition basketball game. This year the game's proceeds went to the local charity Thistle Farms, which offers sanctuary and work to women in Nashville. These women make soaps, shampoos, and candles, and sell them in addition to their local shop and cafe.

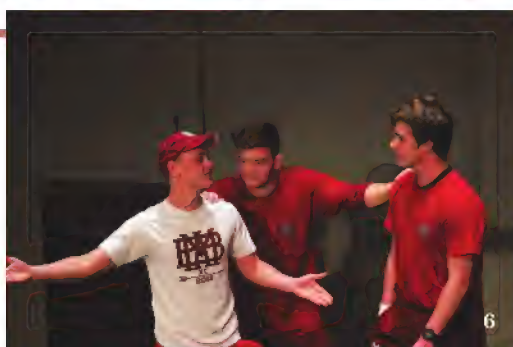

To raise money, the MBA community nominates pledges for teachers to complete to benefit the charity. In the past Mrs. Qian has done the tip off but this year she was not available so other faculty stepped up their game. This year Mr. Carlini shaved half of his infamous mustache and jumped on a mini trampoline the entire game. Mr. Norton also donned a stylish mullet, and Mr. and Mrs. Basset sang an impressive rendition of "I Will Always Love You."

The game was fast paced and exciting, with both teams trying to get someone to dunk, and taking a lot of three point shots. Even with Coach Wims as ref and Coach McMahan and Jackson splashing from downtown, the seniors came away with a tight victory for the game of 2017. The event raised a lot of money for Thistle Farms and provided a fun evening of memories.

2017 FIELD DAY COMPETING RAIN OR SHINE

MBA's third field day continued to improve on the previous years. It eased the students back into MBA life the day after spring break and made for a day full of fun activity. The traditional field day basketball, football, soccer, and tug of war remained, but were supplemented by some academic competitions, bench press, rowing, and spike ball to give it a unique MBA feel.

The day began with worries of coming rain, but the events went on under cloudy but peaceful skies. Beginning with a silver victory in the improvisation, the rest of the school then took to the fields and courts to compete in events for four hours. After individual grade competition, the whole school unites to watch a 6 x 200m relay where a member of each grade runs a leg, and where cardinal showed out to win against a fast silver group.

The rain hit with perfect timing as the outdoor event finished, so everyone moved to the gym to watch the game deciding tug of war. The Class of 2017 won cardinal's first victory. The day has become a fun tradition on The Hill to allow every member of the teams to show off their respective strengths whether those be theatre, athletics, or the trivia.

8. Nasir Cook hands off to John Hyde (silver) and Maxwell Battle to Coleman Rutherford (cardinal) in the 6x200 relay. 7. Will Crawford (silver) steals the ball from Will McEvoy during the Freshman soccer game. 8. Jack Hornsby blocks Haden Wachtler in the senior basketball game. 9. Harrison Kidd, Bradford Holladay, and Tony Neuhooff act out an improv scene set in a haunted house, starting the silver off with a victory.

2017 LAS PROM BRINGING VEGAS TO NASHVILLE

Prom 2017 was a great success. There are a lot of people to thank for putting on such a great show starting with Junior class officers Harrison Kidd and Ty Allen who found the band, For a Good Time Call, as well as allocating work to other people to get everything done. The Junior class worked with maintenance and Mr. Morrison to create the set the week before to be ready for the big night.

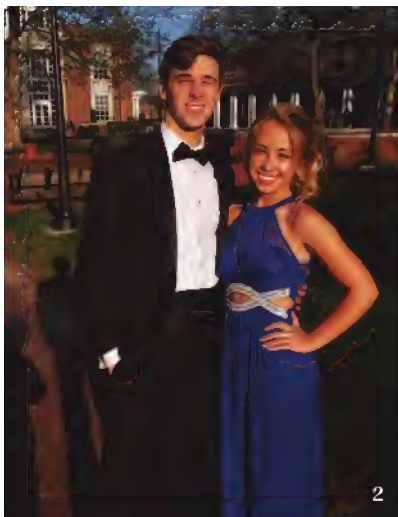

The night of, the seniors arrived early for pictures and a fantastic meal provided by Sage before heading to presentations and the dance. Having already been on campus for several hours, a number of seniors and their dates retired to the Gibbs room to watch the NCAA basketball tournament, while a group of about twenty juniors stayed to the final song.

The morning after, the set was cleared up in a record time of an hour by disheveled juniors to conclude a great prom. Several faculty members even said the prom was said to be the best MBA has ever had.

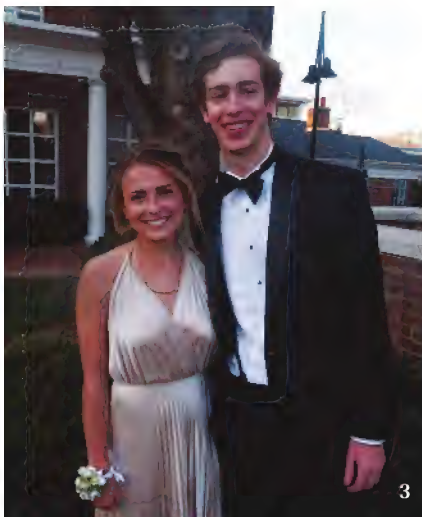

Tom Peters Class of 2017

"I must admit that a band was somewhat of a gamble, but I can say retrospectively that For a Good Time Call was definitely the way to go. Thanks to the junior class for putting on a terrific dance. #VivaNashVegas"

After an energetic approach to the stage, Hudson Dobbs flashes a broad smile as he receives his diploma and shakes hands with chairman of the board, David Ingram.

Will Peters, Class of 2017

"My time at MBA has been defined by opportunity. The institution and community here can provide you with anything and everything you can dream of, so then it becomes the student's responsibility to take advantage of that great privilege. Cherish your time here, because the experience had at MBA will change your life forever."

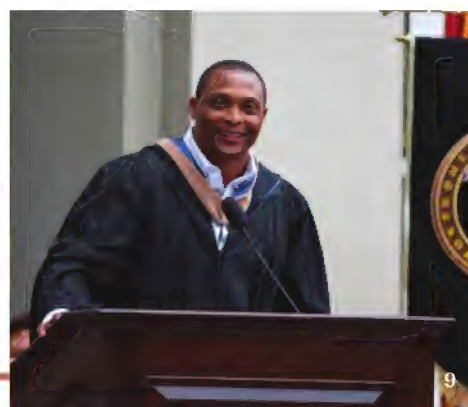

CELEBRATING THE 150TH COMMENCEMENT

The commencement ceremony of 2017 was as great as one could hope for the sesquicentennial commencement. The beautiful June evening began with a prayer from senior class president Jed Griffin, and was followed by the choir's renditions of Be Though My Vision and Homeward Bound.

The 150th year valedictorian and salutatory speeches were perfect for the occasions. Twin brothers Tom and Will Peters were first and second in the their class respectively and their speeches gave interesting insight into their different journeys on The Hill. The commencement address was made by Nashville super star Eddie George, who spoke to the importance of using, not exploiting youth, and being more than a one faceted person, a perfect message for MBA's motto of gentleman, scholar, athlete.

The handing out of diplomas had the traditional mixture of polite applause and raucous celebration from families and friends. The ceremony ended with a touching rendition of the alma matter during which the senior class wrapped their arms around each other as alumni. Congratulations to the Class of 2017!

6. The senior class processes in after the faculty. 7. The MBA combined choirs led by Mr. Smyth sings the traditional Be Though My Vision before the senior class receives their diplomas. 8. The class of 2017 prepares to sit down for the last time as students at MBA. 9. Eddie George delivers the commencement address emphasizing the importance of thinking about actions and how those actions contribute to the man each student will become.

Cooper performs a heel kick in excitement in front of Peter Taylor.

John Fioravanti, Class of 2017

Return to the Forbidden Planet was an unconventional and challenging show, and the cast and crew took it on with great diligence. This was a special group of people to work with for my final musical at MBA.

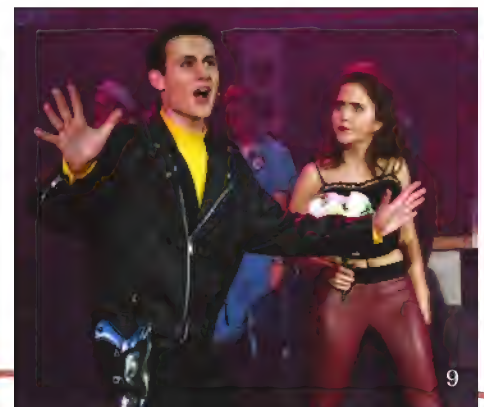

RETURN ^{TO} THE FORBIDDEN PLANET

MBA and Harpeth Hall's 19th musical collaboration, Return to the Forbidden Planet, a clever retelling of Shakespeare's The Tempest set to classic 50s rock-and-roll tunes, was an out-of-this world performance on the stage of Pascall Theater. The play told the story of Captain Tempest (John Fioravanti '17) and his crew of the Dreamchaser starship and their crash landing on the far off planet of D'Illyria, where they encounter the nefarious Dr. Prospero (Peter Taylor '17), his beautiful daughter Miranda (Charlotte Staggs '18), and his robot Ariel (Luke Rochford '17), who were stranded there decades ago by Prospero's evil wife Gloria (Kat Trotman '17). Hijinks ensued, including a battle with an alien and the destruction of the planet.

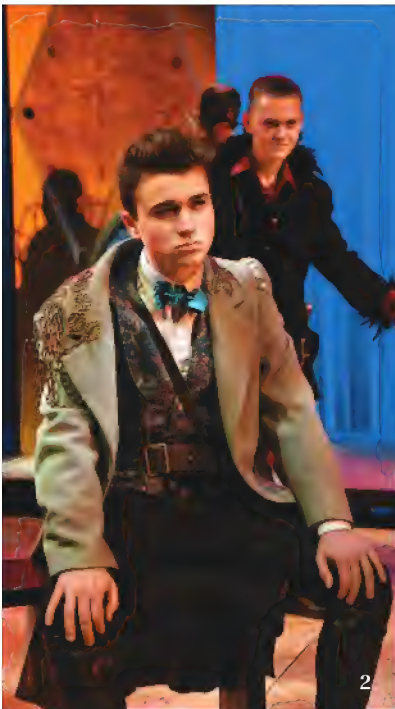

Helmed by Dr. Fuller, Mr. Merideth, and Ms. Hamilton of Harpeth Hall, rehearsals began bright and early August 1st. Throughout the production, Dr. Fuller emphasized teamwork and perseverance, two elements key to making a great show. At the end of the play's August 31-September 3 run, every cast member finished with a piece of work he or she could be proud of. Return to the Forbidden Planet was an a triumph of musical theater. The production is sure to be remembered on campus for a long time.

6. Luke Rochford sings along with the ensemble. 7. The whole crew celebrates, and practices their moves, at the skate center. 8. Jackson Long and Andrew Falls listen as J.P. Cooper sings of his love. 9. John Fioravante sings in front of Charlotte Staggs

THE SLY FOX OF VOLPONE

In November, the MBA and Harpeth Hall theater programs teamed up for a performance of Ben Jonson's Volpone at Paschall Theater. Directed by Mr. Morrison, the play featured prominent performances from all cast members, including Harrison Kidd's witty and dramatic lead performance as Volpone, Jack Capizzi's hilarious performance of the frail and old Corbaccio, and John Powell Cooper's impressive portrayal of Corvino. Harpeth Hall's Meredith Welborn and Amber Steigelfest did a wonderful job portraying the innocent Celia and the sly Mosca, respectively. Peter Taylor and Carter Smith added some flair with a superb musical performance. The entire cast and crew combined for an excellent rendition of this classic comedy, one that spawned both laughter and fascination from the audience. The second MBA theater performance of the year was loved by all who came to see it, and it goes down as an instant classic in Big Red theater history.

1. Mr. Morrison smiles with the cast and crew of Volpone. 2. Bradford Holladay contemplates life in his role of Bonario. 3. John Powell Cooper, as Corvino, bends over to speak to Meredith Welborn, as Celia. 4. Corbaccio, played by Jack Capizzi, strikes the audience's funny bone as he struggles mightily with a scroll.

5. Bradford Holladay, as Bonario, speaks to Mosca, played by Amber Steigelfest. 6. Jack Capizzi looks pleased with himself as Amber Steigelfest grabs her face in horror. 7. Harrison Kidd stands majestically as Celia (Meredith Welborn) and Bonario (Bradford Holladay) look upon him. 8. Volpone pretends to be on his deathbed, and Voltore (Andrew Falls) brings a gift in an attempt to become Volpone's heir. 9. Disguise and deceit take center stage. 10. Bonario speaks to an angered Corvino as Celia watches.

Harrison Kidd, One Sly Fox

"Volpone," Italian for 'sly fox,' follows a wealthy Venetian who feigns illness in order to fool three men who are after his fortune: Voltore, (Italian for vulture), Corbaccio (raven) and Corvino (crow). Assisted by Mosca (fly), Volpone tricks the men into giving him lavish gifts that they believe will secure heirship to Volpone's fortune. The story is a blatant satire of greed and lust, and it is one that provides laughter and intrigue alike.

THE TEMPEST WITH COMEDY AND MYSTICISM

The Tempest, a play written by Shakespeare that contains comedic and tragic elements alike, was performed by students from MBA and Harpeth Hall in the Paschall Theatre from February 22 to February 25, 2017. The play follows Prospero, played by JP Cooper, and his daughter Miranda, played by Isabelle Kohler, as Prospero seeks revenge on his enemies for usurping his throne as the Duke of Milan. As his enemies sail near the enchanted island on which Prospero and his daughter live, Prospero sends a storm to wreck the ship and avenge the loss of his throne. The cast performed Dr. Fuller's adaptation beautifully with wonderful acting, stage design, and music. Other cast members included Jack Capizzi, Harrison Kidd, Warner Lamar, Andrew Falls, Asher Curnutte, John Jameson, Danny Lee, and Tim Blaufuss, among others. Thank you to all, cast, crew, and Dr. Fuller, who made this show a ravishing success!

The Mystical and Comical

Feature image: JP Cooper stands front and center as he plays the lead role of Prospero. 1. The cast and crew of The Tempest poses for a picture on stage. Left: Jack Capizzi dazzles the audience with superior acting.

Feature Image: JP Cooper takes center stage with his shaved and "tattooed" head and captivates the crowd during this scene. 1. The whole cast and crew put in countless hours of work to bring this production to life. 2. Andrew Falls gets into his role as Antonio, Prospero's brother. 3. Warner Lamar, a senior, engages in on-stage banter with Tim Blaufuss, a freshman. The variance in age speaks to the remarkable depth in the theater program. 4. JP Cooper, Asher Curnutte, and Isabelle Kohler take center stage as they gaze into the distance.

5. Prospero speaks with his daughter Miranda in a dramatic scene. 6. John Jameson threateningly wields a knife as his cohorts look on. 7. Harrison Kidd, as Caliban, shows off his best growl to the camera. 8. Warner Lamar plays music to Dr. Fuller as JP Cooper chuckles in the background, perhaps at the fact that Warner is sitting on someone else while serenading.

Feature Image: John Thornton, Hamilton Garber, and Jack Carey star in Bohemian Rhapsody. 1. John Jameson holds up a dismembered foot in Bohemian Rhapsody. 2. Jack Capizzi gestures emphatically towards the audience in Impromptu as he takes on the role of Ernest. 3. All of the casts and crew members pose for a photo to commemorate the experience of directing and starring in their own productions.

Caleb Jernigan, Class of 2017

"My main goal in Bohemian Rhapsody was to make people laugh, but also think at the same time. Once you look past the innuendos and crude humor, there is a deeper meaning to the play. It addresses relevant political and social issues but in a nonsensical, absurdest way. That's what I found so interesting about it.

TAKING THE STAGE ONE ACT AT A TIME

Each year the seniors in the Theater Studies class taught by Dr. Fuller culminate their studies in the fourth quarter with the student directed one act plays. After three quarters of learning about the theory and practice of acting, directing, and producing, each student in the class prepares a one act to be presented in front of the school by both thespians and everyday students.

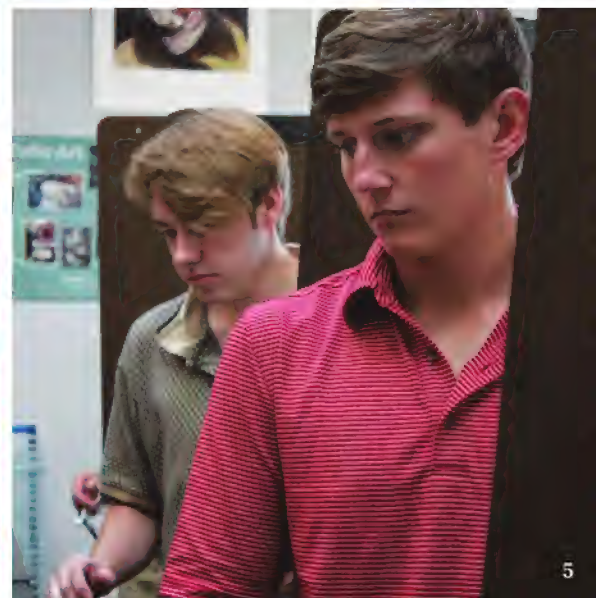

This year, five students undertook the challenge. Peter Taylor teamed up with Dr. Fuller to direct "Impromptu," in which Jack Capizzi and Patrick Andreen took on the roles of students who had been forced on stage to perform. John Fioravanti directed "Rules of Love" featuring Harrison Kidd as a priest who runs into his ex in confession. Next, was Tony Neuhoﬀ's "Tornado Warning" which he wrote himself to portray a pair with a history stuck in a grocery store because of inclement weather. In "Universal Language" directed by Boaz Kelner, John Powell Cooper plays Don, who teaches his fake language to anyone who will take his class. Last but not least, Caleb Jernigan, who acted in Tornado Warning, directed Bohemian Rhapsody, a comedic portrayal of an American in a Bohemian communist gathering, with political undertones. Thanks to a year of hard work, the shows were a success.

4. Harrison Kidd plays a priest performing a confession in Rules of Love. 5. John Powell Cooper plays the role of con man Don in Universal Language 6. Matthew (Jackson Long) and Charlotte (Margaret Wihiton) talk to pass the time in Tornado Warning. 7. Patrick Andreen plays Timid Tony in Impromptu.

AP Art History

The AP Art History trip to Chicago with Harpeth Hall was fortunate to see history in the making by being in Chicago for the Cubs' World Series parade. They took a break from museum hopping to join the crowds for a part of the celebration.

CREATING IN THE STUDIO

The art studio is a sacred space for most art students as it is their space to create works that are unique to their vision. Students are now in their second year with the renovated Davis Building studios and these light filled and spacious studios help give students the environment to create their best works. With three studio classrooms, a dedicated clay/3D studio, traditional darkroom, art history classroom, clean room, and newly furnished digital media lab students were not at a lack for space or materials. The digital medial lab was outfitted over the summer with new computers, a scanner, and all the software students could need to create not only art pieces but video and audio files as well. The lab was put to use by everyone from Art I through AP Studio Art to get a taste of what digital has to offer. The lab was also utilized by students across many disciplines including Dr. Fuller's Senior Seminar class to create their documentaries with the expertise of Mr. McCalister. With this range of materials and spaces it is not hard to see why students enjoy their time in the studio and it shows in the masterful works they create and display in the ample gallery areas both upstairs and down in the Davis Building. It is always a pleasure to see the newest creations in these rotating exhibitions.

ENDADA 2017 MUSIC, ART, FOOD, AND FUN

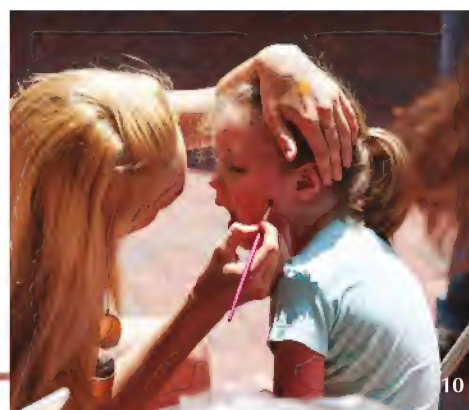

After almost of year of planning by Jackson Satz (Project Coordinator) with Ben Gauldin (Music), Cole Thornton (Art), Webb Hunt (Merchandise), Harrison Kidd (Theatre), Cameron Jacobson (Food), and Aidan Niswender (Volunteers) under the direction of Ms. Hollifield, MBA's spring arts and music festival was a huge success. With perfect weather and a smooth set up, the day could not have been better. Although many MBA groups, like the Will Troman Band, Gravy Train, The Grumble Bunch and The Zooboomafoos performed, there were also groups from the community such as Avitas and the Second Planet.

In between performances, there was plenty to do and see. With student vendors including Thomas Bellet and Tim Buchanan, as well as other vendors and artists from the community there was plenty to peruse. There was also a performances from the Chinese Arts Alliance, who ushered everyone towards the giant cupcake cake with their Lion Dance Team to celebrate MBA's 150th.

The festival was not however, a look do not touch kind of place, and there were plenty of opportunities to create one's own prints, T-shirts, ice cream sundaes, and much more. After a huge success, the MBA and Nashville community owes a big thank you to the art department and student talent, and can anticipate another wonderful festival next year.

ORCHESTRA^{AND} SINFONIA PLAYING IN PERFECT HARMONY

2017 marked another year of success for the MBA Orchestra. Working hard daily, the young musicians practiced tirelessly to put on many impressive performances throughout the year. A few highlights include the formation of the Chamber Orchestra and several exciting new venues for the orchestra groups. Chamber Orchestra received an excellent performance rating and a superior sightreading rating at the school's first ever appearance at the concert festival. Not to be outdone, The Sinfonia launched the first annual Pat Patrick concert, ringing in a new era of music for The Hill.

Sophomore Paul Lee plays with the rest of the orchestra in the combined concert.

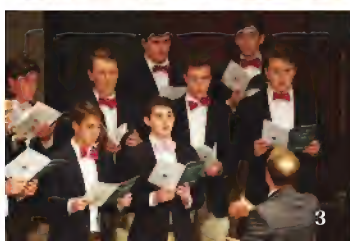

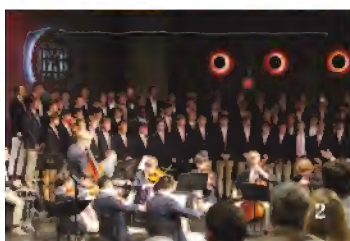

5. Senior Christian Palm and Junior Ray Lee perform with the Chamber Choir in the Winter Concert. 6. The Prelude Orchestra take part in the fall capstone event for the Junior School. 7. Brian Lu features on the violin. 9. Samuel Kirkpatrick performs in the Fall Recital. 10. Jack Edwards plays with the Prelude Orchestra in the Dead Poets Society Room. 11. The cellos of Chamber Orchestra give a commanding performance. 12. The Winter Concert featuring various groups of the MBA music department wows everyone, including Mr. Merideth.

Mr. Merideth, Maestro Extraordinaire

Tyler Merideth conducts the Prelude Orchestra, Sinfonia, and Chamber Orchestra, as well as teaches AP Music Theory. He studied music at Belmont University and has been at MBA since 2010. He has been a dedicated member of the Music Department faculty and has transformed MBA's Orchestra programs in his seven year tenure.

The Chamber Choir delivers a melodic version of "Stars I Shall Find." 5. Senior Hayes Alley sings Frank Sinatra at the Fall recital.

Jackson Maradik, Class of 2017

"Music at MBA served as a means of self expression while also teaching me how to blend and collaborate with other individuals. My three years in the top choral group were outlined with many performances and a growing passion for the art. I can not imagine my time on The Hill without music as it defined my experience and will continue to shape who I am in the future."

VOCAL MUSIC HITTING THE RIGHT NOTES

This year proved to be a great one for MBA's vocal music program. With admirable dedication, the choirs performed at a multitude of events, from assemblies to commencement. Choir, like many other parts of the department, is broken into groups of ranging experience and difficulty, from Big Red Chorus to Chamber Choir and Headmaster Singers. Each group works to develop proper musical techniques and train their voices in a range of styles. Several choir members (Hayes Alley, John Firovanti, Jackson Maradik, Will Gray) were selected to sing in the Tennessee Music Educators All-State Convention. Performances this year included visiting the First Baptist Church, Vine Street Congregation, and the 150th celebration on campus. Under the direction of Mr. Smyth the boys perfected their harmonies and stunned audiences with each performance.

6. Big Red Chorus gives an energetic performance of "God Rest Ye Merry Gentleman" for the Holiday Concert. 7. The singers participated in a number of off campus performances including this one at First Baptist Church in Nashville. 8. Lads n' Plaid perform their annual collaboration with the singers from Harpeth Hall of "Veni, Veni Emmanuel." 9. The Chamber Orchestra and combined choirs round off with concert with classic "Christmas Time is Here."

BANDS AT MBA

FROM JAZZ TO ROCK & EVERYTHING IN BETWEEN

The Music Department welcomed Mr. Jordan Frederick this year to join Mrs. Pippin in leading the school's bands: Cardinal Band, Silver Band, High School Concert Band, and Ellington Band. The program's year was a success thanks to the talents and efforts of the students and teachers. The bands began their public performances early in the year with early shows at back to school events and high profile events like the Sagheti Supper. Their performances continued through the year with appearances at assemblies, the Father Son Dinner and Mother Son Breakfast, and the 150th celebration in the spring. This year also saw a trip to Memphis to tour the legendary Sun Studios, Blues Hall of Fame, and perform on the famous Beale Street. MBA also welcomed famed musicians Jeff Coffin and Roy Wilfred Wooten, also known by his stage name Future Man, to collaborate at the Winter Concert and work with students during the school day during classes. This year saw a great myriad of activities and events for the bands.

Luke Speyer, Class of 2018

Dedicated member of the rock band and talented drummer Luke Speyer describes his experience in MBA's music department as "a special and integral part of my experience at MBA, providing an enriching and creative outlet for my musical interests."

4. Nikhil Peterson, Dudley Harmer, and Jack Collins get their groove on during the . 5. Students check out the legendary Sun Studios in Memphis during a road trip to study the blues and perform on Beale Street. 6. Carter Smith, Will Grana, and Michael Garcia perform during one of the concerts on the Quad. 7. Parker Bowen is as blown away by Wesley Hall's playing as everyone on the Quad for this break-time concert. 8. Mr. Frederick caught in action during the Winter Concert.

KEEPING THE CROWD ENTERTAINED

This year, the MBA Rock Band killed it. The students who participate dedicate huge amounts of time to rehearsal and performances at sporting and community events throughout the year. Led by Ms. Pippin and Mr. Friedrich, the group rocks out to past and current hits, anything from Sweet Caroline to Call Me, Maybe.

The rock band gives students from both MBA and Harpeth Hall the chance to take their music past the level required in class to perform in front of sizable audiences at home football and basketball games and at local events. The extra commitment required means that only those who truly love music pursue the option, and this year saw and heard plenty of talent. Almost every performance Will Gray and Jackson Maradik performed vocals for Will Trotman and Peter Taylor on guitar, Carter Smith and Christopher Coburn on keys, and Luke Speyer on the drums.

Feature Image: With fireworks in the background, Will Gray and Jackson Maradik sing for the band during half time of the homecoming game. For the occasion, the horns joined the band. 1. CELLOPHONY CONCERT FOR A CAUSE

Cellophony is a student run concert in collaboration with Harpeth Hall that benefits the W.O. Smith Music School for children who would not otherwise be able to pay for music lessons and instruments. This year's concert was run by Will Gray, Peter Taylor, Will Trotman, and Harrison Avery with help from faculty sponsors Mr. Smyth and Mr. Fredrick. It began with tough auditions for the performance spots, and the leaders and performers spent countless hours rehearsing their individual pieces, as well as a group Jackson Maradik put together by Will Trotman. There were performances by Rhys Rutherford, Peter Taylor, John Fioravanti, Will Gray, Jackson Maradik, Luke Speyer, Carter Smith, The Headmaster Singers, and Will Trotman. The concert was an incredible success, and the MBA community is looking forward to another great performance next year with the returning leadership of Will Trotman and Harrison Avery.

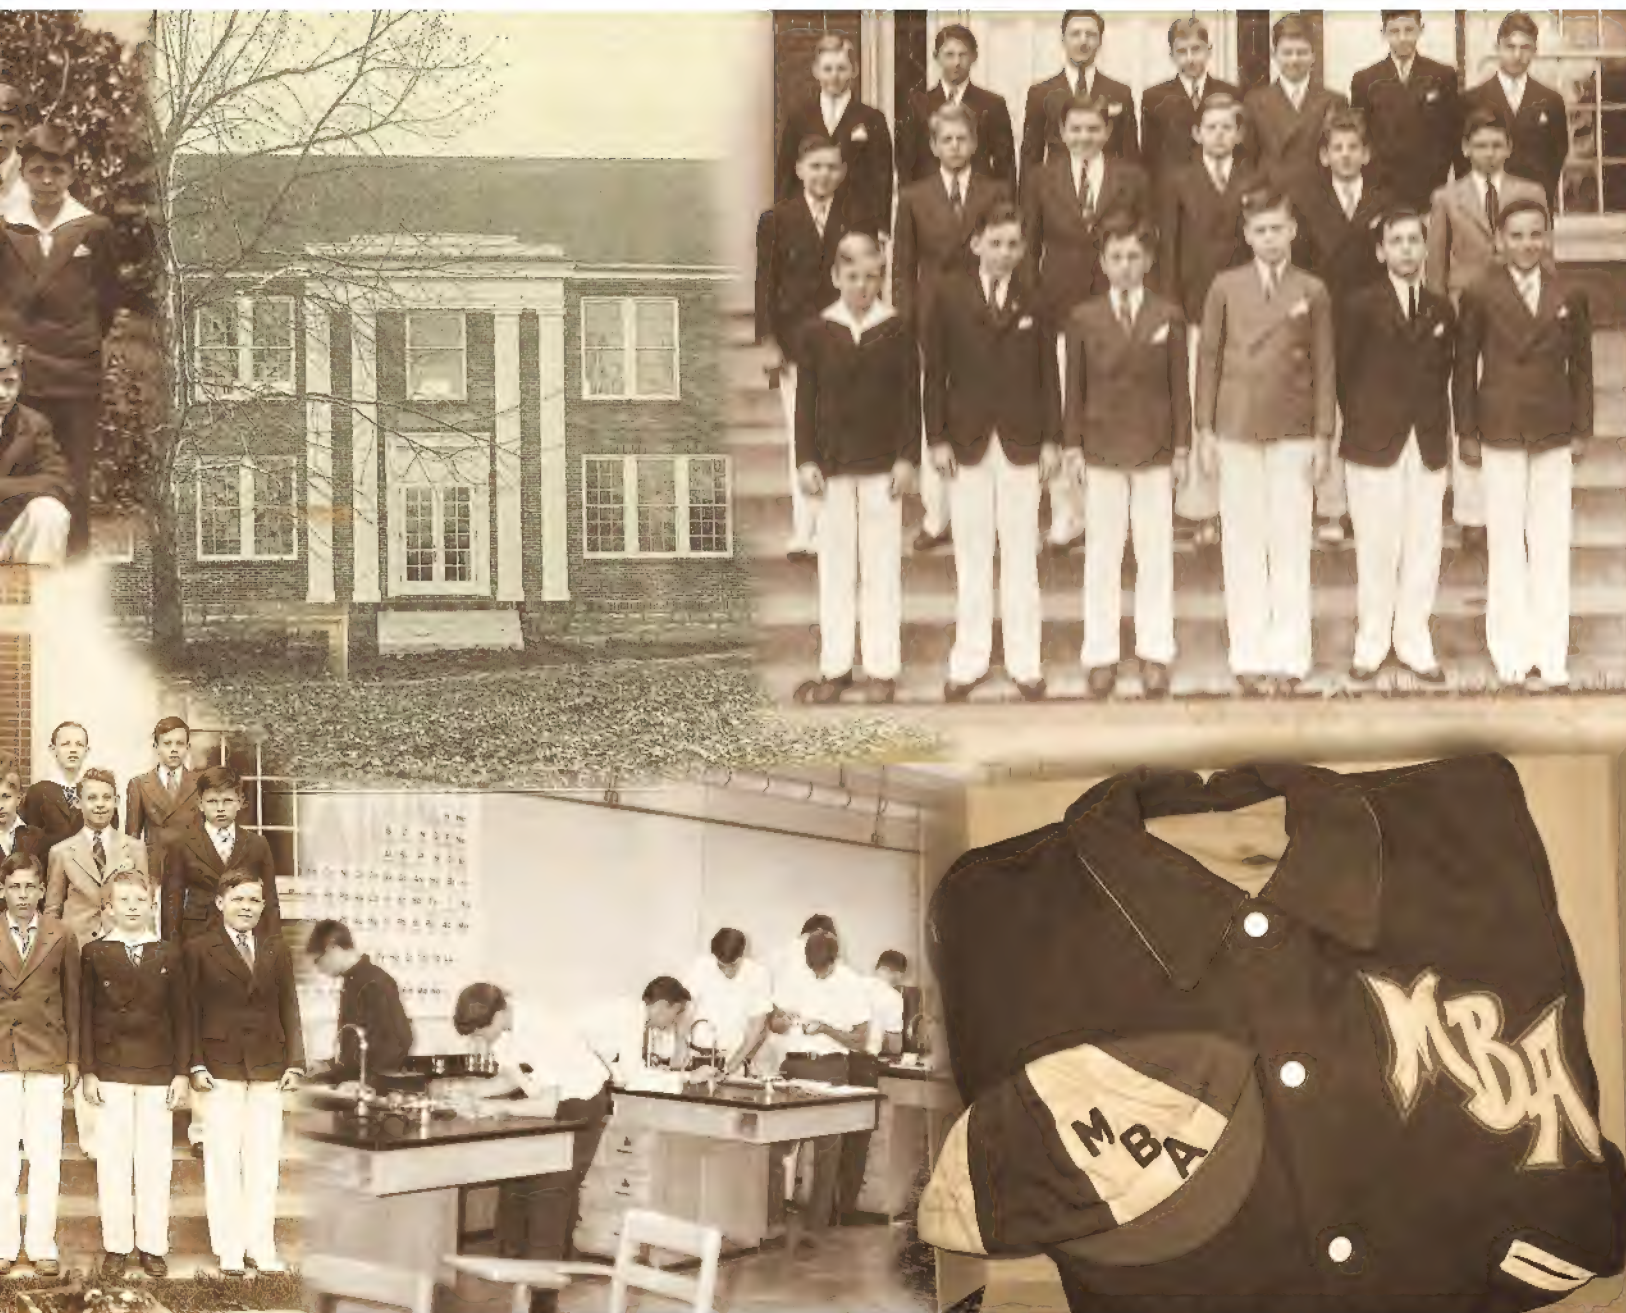

Feature Image: The entire staff including set up and performers, celebrate their final rehearsal before the big show. 1. Peter Taylor and John Fioravanti sing an Avett Brothers song accompanied by Simon Webber on the cello 2. Luke Speyer rocks out on drums; he was the sole drum player for the entire concert. 3. Will Gray performs a John Mayer song on piano and accompanies the instrument with his voice 4. John Fioravanti, Jackson Maradik, and Will Gray sing in harmony during the Stevie Wonder Medley.

Junior School

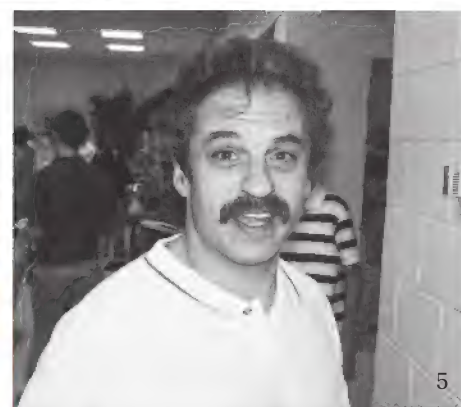

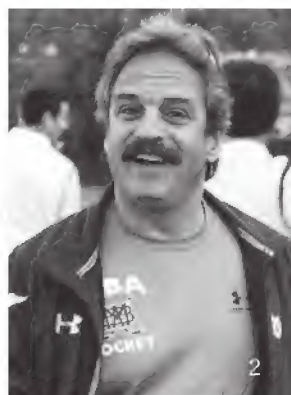

JUNIOR SCHOOL DEDICATION 2016-17 JOHN VERNACCHIO

Mr. John Vernacchio has been a ray of sunlight on campus since he started in 1998. Teaching 7th grade PE during school hours and running the weight room after, he interacts with every student that comes through MBA, and greets every one with a warm smile, a “how are you”, and a handshake. He remembers every name and makes each student feel welcome fulfilling their required sport, regardless of one’s athletic ability. Mr. Vernacchio keeps people safe, teaching them the correct form for exercises, and he always provides corrections in a way that makes you feel cared for and supported without yelling directions. Over his years at MBA Mr. Vernacchio, in addition to teaching, has coordinated intramural sports and served as the Fitness Facility Director.

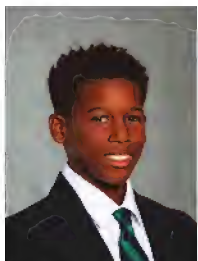

Mr. Vernacchio’s kindhearted spirit also shows in his excitement for each day, after commuting 45 minutes or more each morning to spend time with MBA’s students, he still has one of the best attitudes and brightest smiles on campus. He exudes patience and love to everyone he interacts with and creates energy in students who would otherwise dread going into the weight room. In honor of his love and dedication to the students of MBA; The Bell dedicates the Junior School section of the 2017 yearbook to Mr. John Vernacchio.

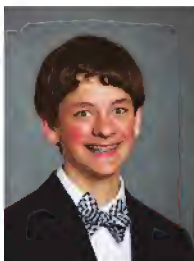

1. As the Fitness Facility Director, Mr. Vernacchio has spent countless hours helping student athletes navigate the weight room. 2. With his signature smile, Mr. Vernacchio always greets people with genuine warmth and care as seen in this 2010 photo. 3. Although he shaved his mustache a few years ago, Mr. Vernacchio’s smile remains the same. 4. As a teacher in the Junior School Mr. Vernacchio greets all with a handshake, including when handing out awards during the JS Honors Night. 5. This “vintage” 2007 photo shows Mr. Vernacchio greeting the day with gusto.

BUILDING THE ^{MBA} BROTHERHOOD AT CAMP LANEY

Camp Laney is a three day retreat in Mentone AL where MBA's newest students learn about each other and themselves as they play, learn, try new things, and face their fears. The first day focuses on building a team out of the entire group by having everyone participate in low ropes activities which build friendships and define leaders. After dinner, everyone relaxes with a game of dodge ball before bed.

The second day introduces new opportunities with the high ropes course which offers impressive challenges without the stability of one's feet on the ground. The grade then regroups around dinner and prepares for another competitive game of battle ball. After a tiring day, the seventh graders find sleep much easier the second night, surrounded by new found friends. The final day also brings the final test, a boat building competition where the phrase "sometimes simple is better" absolutely holds true. The groups construct boats out of cardboard and tape and then "race" them relay style. The camp provides a bonding experience for the incoming class that lasts forever.

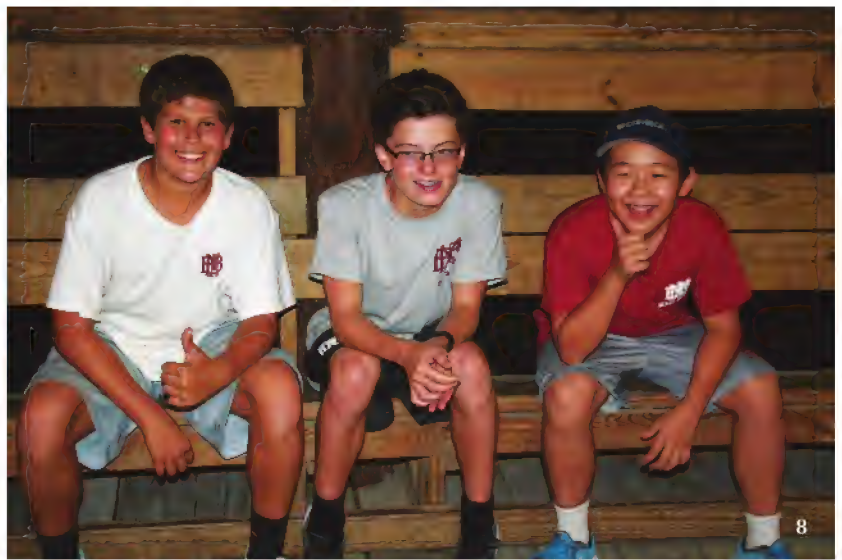

Feature Image: Taking a break from tee ropes course. 1. In preparation for the much anticipated boat race, a cabin carries their state-of-the-art cardboard boat to the river. 2. Lawson Patterson being helped down by Coaches Anderson and Wims after the V-Swing. 3. The Microbe Sailors hope for the best as they board the ships for the race. 4. Cabe Tachek, Henry Krumm and Jacob Huizinga relax during a break from the fun.

5. Avery Estopinal pauses to look back as he scrambles up the climbing wall. 6. Jack Marro throws a fastball in the dodgeball game. 7. Hall Griffith and Adam Wang paddle for their lives in the boat race. 8. Gene Herrmann, Joe Grant, and Bill Ouyang rest after getting hit in the dodgeball game. 9. Rhett Hayles and Mason Jablonski show off their matching casts on the first day. 10. William Curley, Joseph Dattilo, Cummings Levi, and John Wright Kesting pose around the Zipline sign. 11. Jace Breeden looks cool as he zips through the breeze.

John Gray Egbert, Class of 2022

Tyler Laub and John Gray Egbert fall into the water during the boat race. When asked about it, John Gray said, "The water was cold. So the walls of the boat weren't very tall and the boat just kind of caved in. My favorite activity was the cardboard boat race. I fell in twice."

HIGHLIGHTING ARTS

Two times each year the Visual and Performing Arts Department showcases the accomplishments of the Junior School students through a capstone event. This evening of the arts gives family and friends the opportunity to see and hear the creations that students have been working on over the course of the quarter and semester in their elective classes. These art evenings were born from the idea that students be given the chance to share their hard work and creativity with others starting in seventh grade. Both events included the a theatre piece written and produced by the eighth graders as well as seventh grade performances of portions of Shakespeare' works. The Prelude Orchestra, Cardinal and Silver Bands, and Junior School Singers provided musical performances which showcased a range of vocal and instrumental skills. The Davis Gallery was filled with student work created during the students' respective studio classes which was enjoyed by attendees before and after the performances. Each evening also featured remarks from both Mr. Gioia and Mrs. Stewart about the commitment to the arts at MBA. These evenings are always a packed house and great way to highlight the students' achievements.

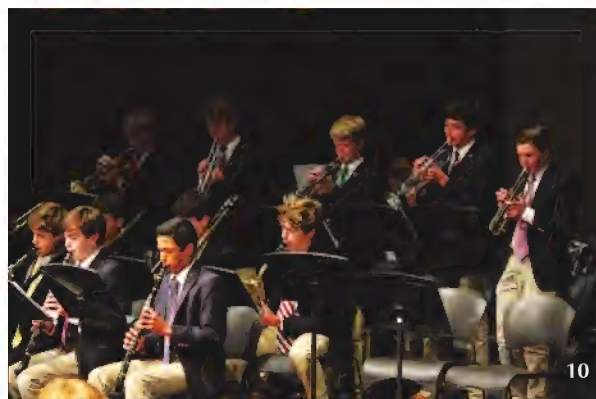

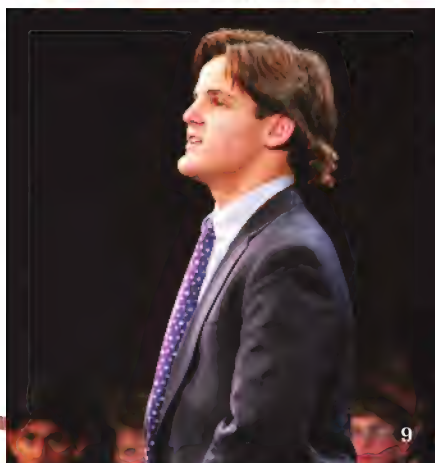

Feature Image: The Junior School Singers amazed the crowd with their rendition of "O Hear the Joyful Singing," during the spring capstone event. 1. Mrs. Stewart gave the closing address in the fall to thank everyone for coming out to support these developing artist and performers. 2. Andrew McCloud gives and impassioned performance.

5. Foster Edwards performs this spring as part of the Perlude Orchestra under the direction of Mr. Meredith. 6. The Davis Gallery was full of artwork for people to enjoy both on the evening of the performances and another two weeks. 7. The Junior School Singers always know how to stay in tune with Mr. Smyth's training. 8. Jack Keller plays guitar during the fall capstone performance. 9. Colyer Haddock brought a tree to life in the eighth grade performance this fall. 10. The Cardinal Band started off the evening this spring with the Basin Street Blues. The Junior School Singers always provide a great musical performance.

Eighth Grade, Day in the Life

Mr. Morrison's eighth grade theatre students wrote and directed their own production of a "typical" day for an MBA student complete with last-minute homework, tests, and time spent in the dining hall and study hall.

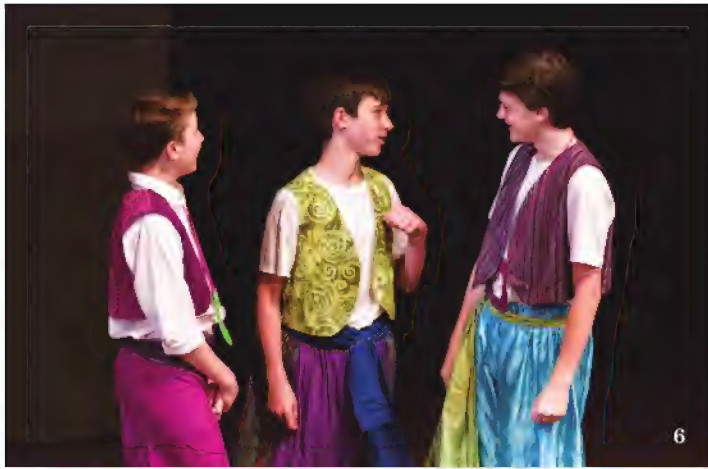

Feature Image: The cast of the Seussification of Romeo and Juliet stands center stage. 1. Romeo, played by Andrew McCloud, stands over Juliet, played by Alli Baker. 2. Thomas Peterson and Jon Tarquinio assess the situation on stage. 3. The Monotone and Capitulate families, as they are called in the Seussification, find Romeo and Juliet dead. 4. Romeo speaks to the audience. 5. Kyle Tavi, KJ Scruggs, and McConnico Sharpe look on as William Rogers makes a demonstration.

Tragedy with a Twist

In the linking of each performance of the 2016-2017 theatre season to the works of William Shakespeare the Junior School presented Romeo and Juliet but with a special twist...Dr. Seuss. This approach allowed the tragic play to take on some humor amidst the sorrow and special moments such as a pool noodle sword fight.

DR. SEUSS MEETS ROMEO AND JULIET

This year's theatrical production from the Junior School was The Seussification of Romeo and Juliet. Starring members from both MBA and Harpeth Hall. The play was an adaptation of Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet through the eyes of the beloved Dr. Seuss. As a result, the play turned a tragic tale into one much more comical: the play featured Romeo and Juliet trying to make their love work in the midst of a feud between their two families, the Capitulates and the Monotones (adapted from the Capulets and Montagues, as Shakespeare called them). Directed by Mr. Berry, the show, which staged three performances at the end of January, was a great success. Andrew McCloud took the lead, as he played Romeo alongside Harpeth Hall's Alli Baker, who played Juliet. The play also featured prominent performances from seven other MBA students – William Rogers, Kyle Tavi, McConnico Sharpe, Thomas Peterson, KJ Scruggs, Jon Tarquinio, and Gene Herrmann – and four other Harpeth Hall students – Sydney Wynn, Kenna Carter, Olivia Zimberg, and Mary Charlotte Dugan. The elite combination of the cast, the crew, Mr. Berry, and Dr. Fuller made the show a great one, and everyone looks forward to what the Junior School will put on for their next production.

6. William Rogers, McConnico Sharpe, and Andrew McCloud exchange lines. 7. KJ Scruggs, Gene Herrmann, and Jon Tarquinio stand with watchful eyes onstage. 8. Kyle Tavi, as Tybalt, and McConnico Sharpe, as Mercutio, engage in a heated swordfight. 9. Gene Herrmann appears to be befuddled as he peers upon a scroll.

TAKING OVER THE ATL FOR THE WEEKEND

The eighth grade Atlanta trip is one of the best class bonding experiences in an MBA student's career. This year, the class of 2021 traveled to Atlanta for non-stop fun. The adventure began by watching MBA's Founders Day race, after which the eighth graders filled Grayline buses with enough energy to carry the group to the group's first activity, a Braves game against the Nationals in which MBA grad R.A. Dickey pitched for the Braves.

The second day started with an unexpected bang when the fire alarm woke everyone up at 6am. The early start did not dampen the group's spirit, however, and the grade moved on to an exciting day of paintball which reached its peak during an intense game of capture the flag. To conclude the second day, everyone had a blast at Andretti world where the group was granted unlimited access to arcade games and go-carts. To finish off the excitement, the next morning everyone headed to six flags to ride roller coasters before heading back to campus.

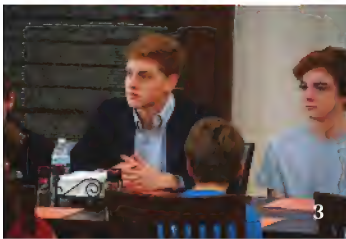

Feature Image: The whole grade enjoys a Braves game and the park's food. 1. Zak Herbstreit and Bo Wilbanks race each other in Andretti World's arcade. 2. The group prepares for paintball battle in the shade before hitting the course. 3. The fun was not limited to the students as Coaches Euverard, Chauvin, and Brock have a blast at Six Flags. 4. Brody Snell and Thomas McRae dance away at Andretti World. 5. A group of daring students take on The Twister at Six Flags. 6. Nasir Cook bears the mark of a hard fought game of paintball.

7. Joseph Robertson and friends prepare to race go karts at Andretti World. 8. The eighth graders stand ready to load the buses to leave MBA. 9. Breckenridge Curnutte and his friends watch the races at Andretti World. 10. Clay Crews and Thomas Peterson race at the arcade. 11. A group enjoys a four way air hockey game at Andretti World. 12. Everyone takes a break from paint ball to refuel before heading back out onto the course. 13. Will Brown races at Andretti World.

Feature Image: Taking a break between Big-Little activities before the start of school. 1. Palmer Einstman with Brice Perkerson and Khol Hedgepath hit pause on a game of campus-wide capture the flag. 2. Big-Little bros pair up for tug-of-war during halftime of the MBA-BA game. 3. Alumnus Anthony Swenson comes back to MBA to give advice to a group of Little Brothers on the annual Big Brother-Little Brother service day. 4 & 5. Senior and 7th grade Big-Littles split up into cardinal and silver teams for a tug-of-war match to kick off the school year and introduce the field day rivalry.

Building Community

Big Brother Little Brother events happen throughout the year. Seniors and their little brothers toss water balloons during halftime of the MBA-BA game.

BIG BROTHER LITTLE BROTHER MENTORS IN ACTION

The MBA Big Brother Little Brother Program has been a fast-growing tradition on The Hill. Each year new incoming 7th graders are paired up with senior buddies to ease the transition from elementary school to the MBA junior school. The activities start before the school year even starts with a day of pizza and games. The little brothers get a ride to school for their first day of breakfast, the pinning ceremony, and some words of wisdom from seniors and faculty as the seventh graders start their journey on The Hill. Throughout the year activities continue that the Big-Little brothers do together, ranging from battleball games to a Big-Little service day in November. Throughout the year, the seniors and 7th grade brothers develop life long friendships, as seniors give advice and help to guide them through life on The Hill. The Big Brother Little Brother Program helps to connect the school from the 7th grade all the way to the 12th grade and works to develop a sense of community and to strengthen the bonds of brotherhood that are at the heart of the MBA experience.

6. Gene Hermann and Avery Estopinal with big brothers Will Gray and Andrew Freeland, respectively, come together for a Big Red breakfast on registration day. 7. Andrew Freeland pins the MBA waffle on Avery Estopinal's blazer during the 7th grade Pinning Ceremony. 8. Jed Griffin and Owen Underwood and their little brother help at Abe's Garden on a Big Brother-Little Brother service day during November. 9. Ellis and his little brother Grant eat breakfast before heading off to do service.

A New Chapter

Junior School Honors Night and Graduation are the final two steps that the eighth graders take before they become high schoolers. Now, the class of 2021 looks ahead to more privileges, new opportunities, and greater challenges as they journey into high school. The class of 2022 is sure to fill the shoes of the former eighth graders well, as they become the new kings of Massey. Next year will welcome the class of 2023 to MBA, and they will begin the journey that the class of 2021 is now even closer to completing.

CELEBRATING THE ACHIEVEMENTS AND GRADUATION OF THE JUNIOR SCHOOL

The Junior School students can sometimes be overshadowed on The Hill by students from the high school. However, this does not mean they are not doing great work, and the Junior School Honors Night and Graduation is an evening to recognize the hard work put in by the younger students at MBA.

The first part of the night is an awards ceremony that begins with the presentation of certificates and medals for academic achievement in individual classes. The honors then build, and plaques are given to boys who have best exemplified the motto of gentleman, scholar, and athlete, throughout the year, in and out of class.

Finally, the eighth grade are presented with certificates to acknowledge their hard work and success as they continue their journey at MBA and go from being the top dogs of the junior school to the new kids in the high school.

The event is punctuated by wonderful performances by the Junior School Singers and a singing of the Alma Mater. The night is one of smiles and pride, as everyone cheers for peers and looks forward the the possibilities of the future and opportunities offered in the years to come.

6. The Junior School Choir sings in front of the dining hall at JS Graduation. 7. Ashton Terrell receives his diploma from Mr Gioia as Mrs. Stewart calls students to the stage. 8. Clay Crawford and Will Coulthard share a laugh at Junior School Honors Night. 9. Mr. Gioia gives out the 7th Grade Best Boy award to Jackson Francis.

Jeremiah 29:11

I will give thanks because I have been so amazingly and miraculously made. Psalm 134:14

Standing in this moment, your journey here is done.
 The battles all concluded, be they lost or won.
 Six years past a small boy began to climb the hill.
 Each and every step you took, forged your strength of will.
 Oft' guided by such caring hands you didn't know were there.
 Teachers, coaches, counselors, each one took such care.
 They challenged you, demanding more than you thought could.
 Your stature grew, character too, with each trial withstood.
 They built a boy into a man, the man you've grown to be.
 You're now prepared to face the world, and seize your destiny.
 A bright future lies before you, more battles to be won.
 So, standing in this moment, your journey has begun.

We love you so much and we are so proud of you!

Mom, Dad, Harrison,
Connor, and Cole

Andrew, thank you for bringing our family constant joy and laughter. You, my son, are truly a blessing. We will laugh everytime we think of your many quotes: "Let's get dad, he'll know what to do!...We got a pool and a pond, the pond would be good for you!... Stupid is as stupid does...He must be a South Pole elf...Get some rest, Pam. You look tired...He's an angry elf!... Get your own tots!...Mom, the meatloaf! ...Mayor of Sequoia...Kitchen closes at 10:30...I don't mean to tell you how to parent, but...I'm way too good for this family...Nobody puts baby in the corner...That's all I got to say about that..."

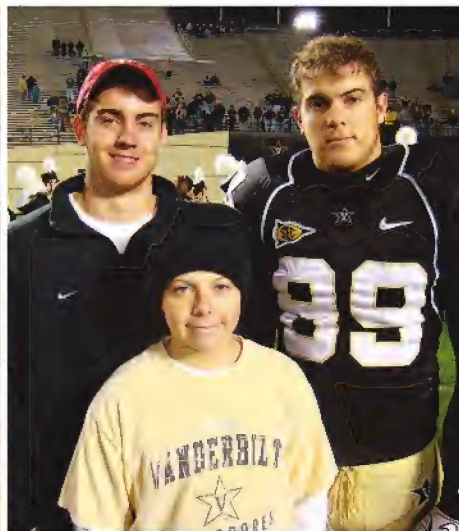

As you leave our nest and take flight, we want to leave you with these words from a song..."I wonder what God was thinking when He created you...I wonder if He knew everything I would need, because He made all my dreams come true. When God made you, He must have been thinking about me. I promise that wherever you may go, wherever life may lead you, with all my heart I will be there too."

VINCENT ZHANG

Our Son, you've outgrown our lap, but never our heart!

You've grown into an exceptional young man, Vincent, who is so gentle, caring and giving toward others. Your strong leadership capabilities, dedication and caring nature are gifts of God, which will lead you into a fruitful happy life.

Always remember to "Trust in the Lord with all your heart and lean not on your own understanding; in all your ways submit to him and he will make your paths straight." (Proverbs 3:5-6). "For I know the plans I have for you," declares the LORD, "Plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future" (Jeremiah 29:11). There will be "Star Wars" ahead of you. May the FORCE be with you!

Proud of you and Love you,
